Gold Seized From Germans To Aid European Nations

Veteran Vessels Torn by Explosion, Fire

1 Dead, 10 Unaccounted for as Ships Collide

IROQUOIS, Ont., Sept. 24.—(CP)—Two veteran Great Lakes boats—one an oil-laden tanker, the other a coal carrier—collided full force early today, setting off a huge blast which rocked the colorful International Rapids section of the St. Lawrence river.

THE EXPLOSION which tore apart the tanker Translake as its store of oil gushed over the coal carrier, accounted for at least one dead while 10 others of the crew of 25 aboard the collier Milverton, still were unaccounted for at mid-afternoon. The entire crew of 22 aboard the Translake were reported safe on the United States side of the river.

Earlier reports listed two persons dead but confirmation was lacking to these reports.

The Milverton was heavily laden and the oil spurting from the tanker caught fire immediately and spurted forward over the collier, its Captain, L. E. Pain of Montreal said from his hospital bed at Ogdensburg, N.Y., across the river.

The Milverton's second mate, William Robertson, of Toronto, died before he reached hospital at Ogdensburg. It was believed that the collier's third engineer, F. Dobson of Montreal also died in the blast but immediate confirmation was not obtainable.

World Menaced

Soviet Policy Dangerous

CANBERRA, Sept. 24.—(Reuters)—Robert Menzies, Australian opposition leader, declared today in a House of Representatives foreign affairs debate that the world stood in great danger because of the policy of Russia.

THE LIBERAL party leader charged other United Nations members with retreating before Soviet policy and urged that they should concentrate on examining what he called Russia's abuse of the big power veto and the bona fides of her participation in the work of the Security Council.

"The world at this moment stands in great danger," he said. "No one can doubt that the cause of that danger is the policy and action of the Soviet Union . . .

"The democracies, which have been pursuing a policy of appeasement similar to that before the war, should say to the Soviet Union: 'Thus far and no farther.'"

HE BITTERLY attacked the Australian government for its reference of the Indonesian dispute to the Security Council.

Accident Victim

JAKE KERSCHMAN

Garage Worker Dies of Injuries

Pinned between the front of a truck and an air compressor in the CNR Service Station, 10365 95 street, shortly before 3 p.m. Tuesday, Jake Kerschman, 11739 87 street, died in a city hospital at 11:35 p.m.

According to workmen in the garage, Walter R. Nichols, 11752 95 street, had driven a truck into the premises to make repairs on the brakes of the vehicle. After jacking up the rear of the truck and making the necessary repairs on the rear wheels he then went to move the truck ahead over the grease pit so as to be able to get the jack under the front wheels.

Police said the truck must have been in gear and according to the driver the accelerator stuck, for when Nichols started the vehicle it immediately shot forward with a roar. Kerschmann was standing in front of the truck and was pushed backward against the air compressor.

He was rushed to hospital in Smith's ambulance, believed to be suffering two broken legs. About six hours later, he died.

The 62-year-old garageman had been in the employ of the CN Service Station for four years. He is survived by his wife; one son Donald, and four daughters. The daughters are, Judy, Mrs. William Roberts, Mrs. Anthony Shultz, all of Edmonton, and Mrs. Phil. Walker of Forestburg.

On Civilization

Execution Said Crime

LONDON, Sept. 24.—(Reuters)—The execution in Sofia yesterday of Nikola Petkov, former leader of the Bulgarian opposition party, the Agrarian Union, constituted a crime against European civilization, a foreign office spokesman said here today.

"THIS EXECUTION of Petkov," he said, "is a tangible and concrete culmination of a series of oppression of freedom of thought and expression which have gone on in Bulgaria for some time past, and of which mention was made in a statement by a foreign office spokesman last Sunday. It was then announced that in the British view any further action of this type would constitute a crime against European civilization. This is such a crime . . .

"If you look at the life of Petkov you will see that for many years past he has fought against totalitarianism and it seems tragic that his life should have ended in that fight at the hands of his own countrymen."

Plan Prompt Distribution Of Huge Sum

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. —(AP)—An allied big three commission has agreed to make a prompt distribution of part of a $330,000,000 gold store seized during the war from the Germans as a means of helping meet critical financial needs of European countries.

ROBERT LOVETT, under-secretary of state, said today that representatives of the United States, Britain and France, forming a "gold pool" commission, agreed to restore the gold to those countries from which it was looted by the Nazis.

Lovett told a press conference that only about half of the gold pot can be distributed immediately. In answer to a question, Lovett said he believes use of the gold will not eliminate the need for stop-gap emergency aid for Western Europe from the United States.

But, he added, it will be a substantial help and might help to ease France over her present financial difficulties.

IN PARIS, French leaders were reported to have told Treasury Secretary Snyder that France will

Land Tax Sales Below Estimates

Sales of city lands forfeited for taxes during September now total $47,134, and bring the aggregate for the year up to Sept. 23, to $491,634, or approximately $8,400 short of the estimated $500,000 revenue expected from this source when the 1947 estimates were considered.

Officials of the land department are confident that the estimated figure will be exceeded before the end of this month.

Sales of properties for home building, and for the extension of home sites continue brisk, and several parcels were sold recently for commercial building purposes.

Govt. Approves Probe Of Mental Hospitals

Three phases of the operation of Alberta mental hospitals and institutions will be investigated this year by Dr. Clarence M. Hincks, general director of the Canadian national committee for mental hygiene, according to the terms of an order-in-council signed Wednesday by His Honor Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen.

Five Provinces Plan Attend Strike Parley

By The Canadian Press

Five provinces have accepted an Ontario government invitation to send representatives to Toronto for a conference Friday on means of settling the 10-day-old nationwide strike of packinghouse workers.

PREMIER DREW of Ontario, who proposed the conference, said the premiers of Quebec, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and New Brunswick have informed him they will send their labor ministers or other representatives.

Still to be heard from are the three other provinces — British Columbia, Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia. But Mr. Drew said the conference "definitely will take place."

Premier Hart of British Columbia said he had no comment to make until he had studied the Drew proposal. Premier Macdonald of Nova Scotia intended to discuss it today with his labor minister before making a decision. There was no word from Prince Edward Island.

Calls Top Experts Home

Marshall Speeds Up Europe Crisis Action

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. — (AP) — State Secretary Marshall is calling home his top experts on western Europe's needs for an intensified attack on the critical problem of what the United States must do to help—and when.

WILLIAM L. CLAYTON, undersecretary of state for economic affairs, and Lewis W. Douglas, United States ambassador to Great Britain, are due to return next week to report on the 16 country Paris conference in which they had a direct hand.

Other officials who took part in the final stages of the Marshall plan conference on European recovery already are back. Myron C. Taylor, President Truman's personal envoy to the Vatican, is en route home, presumably with first hand information on the views of Pope Pius.

MEANWHILE, it was learned that Marshall has been told by his

Suspect Is Held In Sex Slaying

MONTREAL, Sept. 24.—(CP)—A 52-year-old vagrant described by police as a religious crank with Communist tendencies and a criminal record—under official suspicion because he lied about the date he came to Montreal from Toronto—entered his second day here today as a suspect in the Owen Sound, Ont., slaying of 11-year-old Betty Playford last Sunday.

Through hours of questioning last night the man denied any knowledge of the Owen Sound murder in which the Playford girl was criminally assaulted, her head crushed and her body thrown into a ditch.

Ontario provincial police officers said they were disinclined to believe the man had anything to do with the sex slaying of the child.

But, they said, the vague story given by the man, would have to be carefully checked.

The suspect entered the Montford street police station yesterday and asked for a bed, saying he had just arrived from Toronto. His shirtsleeves were torn and he had scratches on both arms, said police.

Later he told police he had been in Montreal several days.

Many Moslem Refugees Aboard

Only 100 Escape Unharmed As India Train Attacked

LAHORE, Pakistan, Sept. 24. —(Reuters)— Reports reaching here today said only about 100 persons escaped uninjured when a train carrying several thousand Moslem refugees from New Delhi was attacked the night of Sept. 22.

A cabinet meeting was called in this Pakistan (Moslem) capital to discuss the reports, which added that a British officer, commanding escorting Hindu troops on the train, was killed in the attack.

The report alleged the Hindu troops would not fire at the attackers but the officer fired until his ammunition was exhausted. It was not clear whether the officer died at the hands of the attackers or the escort troops.

Pakistan authorities knew nothing of the attack until a Pakistan army officer, in the Hindu dominion of India on liaison duty, sent a brief report and later arranged transport of the survivors.

The 100 unwounded passengers, with 400 wounded, reached a refugee camp near Lahore last night.

Unemployment Pay Refused Strikers

VANCOUVER, Sept. 24.—(CP)—An effort was being made Tuesday by the British Columbia Federation of Labor (CCL) to secure unemployment insurance for workers of Swift Canadian Limited and foundry employes in five Vancouver steel plants now strike-bound, Harold Pritchett, federation secretary, said the National Unemployment Insurance commission in Ottawa has ruled against the men receiving out of work insurance.

He claimed that the Swift workers were "locked out for cause," and that in the steel shops, where members of the United Steel workers of America are on strike, the molders are barred from work.

Pat Conroy, national secretary of the CCL, has been asked to intervene with the commission, Pritchett called the commission's ruling "discriminatory."

"Last year in Vancouver identical situation involved members of the AFL molders' union who obtained unemployment insurance," he said.

At Ottawa Pat Conroy said he had received a communication from the British Columbia Federation of Labor and would be conferring with the Unemployment Insurance Commission within the next two days with regard to unemployment insurance for the striking workers. He had no other comment to make in the meantime.

To Cut Living Cost

Greater Production Urged by Mitchell

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 24.—(CP)—Higher production objectives by management and higher unit production by workers are necessary preliminaries to any reduction in the cost-of-living, Labor Minister Mitchell said today.

IN A SPEECH at the 62nd annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, Mr. Mitchell said he knew the increased cost of goods was a cause of concern these days.

"The remedy is in our hands—not by way of subsidies which we all pay anyway—but by the greater output of goods," he said. "It means there must be higher production objectives by management and unit production by workers. With more of the goods and services available, prices will find their proper level.

"IT IS IMPORTANT, too, that the highest level of wages be paid not only because this means a fair

Deny Polish Girls Live in "Bondage"

OTTAWA, Sept. 24— (CP) — Rumors that the 100 Polish girls who recently were brought to Canada to work in a Quebec spinning mill were living under conditions of "virtual bondage" were denied in a report released by the government which commented favorably on their living and working conditions.

The report, released yesterday, was prepared by Victor Podoski, former Polish minister plenipotentiary to Canada and now an employe of the labor department. It concerned the 100 Polish girls flown to Canada from the displaced persons camps of Europe by Lesager Dionne, Liberal member of parliament for Beauce, to work in his spinning mill at St. Georges de Beauce.

Podoski, who visited the girls earlier this month, said his own opinion was that "the labor conditions of the Polish girls are quite satisfactory, that living conditions are very good and that the treatment is absolutely fair and truly Christian."

Quebec Revokes Rights of Union

MONTREAL, Sept. 24.—(CP) —The Quebec labor relations commission in a surprise move today revoked the bargaining-rights certification of eight locals of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO-CCL) now on strike in the meat-packing industry.

The decision means the locals no longer have the legal right to make representations to the companies on behalf of their men or to the commission itself.

Farm Federation Asks Packers Resume Work

By Erwin Fricke

KELOWNA, B.C., Sept. 24. — (CP) — The Canadian Federation of Agriculture, which reputedly represents three fifths of the farmers in Canada, today put the full weight of its organization behind an early settlement in the packinghouse strike.

THE FEDERATION, whose directors are meeting in this Okanagan Valley centre in special convention, last night issued a statement calling on the packinghouse union to send back their men to work immediately.

At the same time the federation urged provincial and federal governments to join "in the most aggressive action to bring all parties to the dispute" to agreement by arbitration.

But while arbitration is pending, the federation also suggested to the federal government that a number of emergency measures should be instituted.

One of these was the establishment of a Dominion export con-

Rules Intimidation Photograph Case

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 24— (AP)—Photographing a man going through a picket line is an act of intimidation, Municipal Judge J. J. Quillin ruled yesterday in dismissing an assault charge.

Walter Lodewick, a picket at the struck Leupold and Stevens Instrument company plant here, charged that Merton Parker, 31, grabbed at his camera and struck him while crossing the picket line.

The judge said that in addition to intimidation by photographing, "the matter of the right of privacy must be considered."

Motor Bike Rider Loses Control; Seat

A motorcycle went on the rampage in Jasper park, Tuesday when it dislodged the rider from the seat and ran wild down the street and collided with a parked car.

The cycle and sidecar then carried on down the road for about a block and a half, colliding with a parked car owned by John L. Beaton, 10920 123 street. Reitzel was uninjured in the accident.

LIVESTOCK FOR export to the U.S., the federation suggested, should be accepted by the board at public market prices levels in effect at the weekend prior to the cessation of slaughtering at Canada Packers, Burns', and Swifts' plants.

The federation also urged the federal government as an emergency measure to remove temporarily "any restrictions to the slaughter and sale of livestock in any community."

In addition cities, towns and villages were asked to remove whatever health restrictions they have down to the minimum which health considerations demanded.

THE FARMERS BODY, "reluctant to pass an opinion upon the merits of any labor dispute" were gravely concerned with impact upon agriculture of the packing house strike.

Strike Conference

Upwards of 12,000 members of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO) are on strike against Swift Canadian, Canada Packers and Burns and Company to enforce demands for an average of 17-cents-an-hour wage increase to bring the hourly minimum to 82 cents an hour.

The union insists on conciliation on a nation-wide scale rather than settlements with individual provinces. Premier Drew said the Toronto conference would consider among other suggestions the proposal that a common conciliator for all the provinces be appointed.

Previous settlement attempts have failed due to the union's rejection of provisions that it send its members back to work during efforts at conciliation or arbitration.

A return to meatless Tuesdays and Fridays to meet the present supply shortage due to the packing-house workers strike was advocated today by the meat dealers' executive of the Retail Merchants' Association at Vancouver.

A RESOLUTION adopted urged that the two days be made fish and poultry days throughout British Columbia.

Butchers were urged to keep their stores open during regular hours, even though the meat supply is low, in order to maintain sale of fish and dairy products. Some shops have closed early when daily meat supplies were sold.

SPOKESMEN FOR Independent Vancouver butchers said today were getting about three-quarters of their regular supply of beef despite the Dominion-wide strike of the United Packinghouse Workers.

Two small independent packinghouses were said to have slaughtered and deliivered more than half the meat ordinarily handled by the large packing firms.

The kill during the first full week of the strike was 1,120 head, compared with the normal weekly kill of 1,800 head. In addition, three carloads of refrigerated beef came from Calgary for two stores.

SOME 300 EMPLOYES of Quebec's leading slaughterhouse—La Cooperative Federee and Legrade Incorporee — stayed away from their jobs today in sympathy with the nation-wide packinghouse workers strike.

Pickets were on duty at both slaughterhouses but all was reported quiet. Decision to call the sympathy strike was taken last weekend at a meeting of local unions of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO).

A previous sympathy strike petered out when union headquarters at Toronto recommended that the men return to their jobs.

Meanwhile, it was announced that Quebec's Labor Minister Antonio Barrette would leave here today for Toronto to attend a conference Friday of provincial labor ministers, suggested by Premier Drew of Ontario as a possible means of settlement of the paralyzing strike.

Lovett said the United States urged a preliminary distribution of the gold not later than Oct. 15 and the commission has agreed to try to meet this deadline.

ELEVEN COUNTRIES have filed claims to the money, totalling nearly $800,000,000, and Lovett explained about half the amount now in hand will have to be withheld to meet claims.

The attitude of these advisers is that it must be "a special session or bust." The information presumably figured in Marshall's report to President Truman on Monday.

THE FRENCH and Belgian ambassadors submitted direct pleas for emergency food supplies to State Under-Secretary Robert A. Lovett yesterday. French Ambassador Henri Bonnet said his country must have an increased allocation of wheat from the principal exporting countries for the remainder of the year. and the approval of the 61-item agenda covering the subjects it will discuss and the decisions it may make the rest of this session.

IN CONNECTION with approval of the agenda Russia's Andrei Vishinsky ran into the American-led stonewall opposition in his efforts to block assembly consideration of major American proposals.

His fight and that of his colleagues from the Slav bloc countries presumably was not nearly so hard as it will be later on. In view of the known lineup of assembly votes he probably expected defeat. Nonetheless, he forced the issues and got the results on the record.

They shape up this way:

On the United States proposal that the general assembly try to restore Korean independence, the vote was 41-6 with seven countries not voting.

ON ARGENTINA'S Italian peace treaty revision proposal, the vote was 23-8 with 19 countries not voting, among them Britain and France.

On the United States appeal for assembly action on the Greek crisis, the vote was 38-6 with nine countries not voting.

collier took to the water in the still canal section of the river. Local farmers awakened by the explosion in the early morning hours went to their rescue. Confusion grew as some of the crew members swam to the United States side of the river, others headed for the Canadian shore and rescuers pulled others from the water.

Over the scene there hung a cloud of dense black smoke, reddinged by a tower of flame in the centre. The smoke became denser making rescue work in the dim light difficult.

The 2,600 ton Milverton, heavily laden with coal, was bound from Oswego, N.Y., to Port Alfred, Que.; Capt. Pain said the vessel was cutting downstream when the tanker, upbound, cut across her bow.

"THE TANKER must have jammed her steering gear," he said. "She cut directly across my bow.

"There were no possibilities of stopping my ship and we struck her amidships."

The tanker, with oil continuing to gush from a huge hole in its side, slowly sank on the spot, while the blazing Milverton headed for the U.S. shore and beached.

ASIDE FROM the 13 crew members in hospital and the one known dead, only one other of the 25-man Milverton crew was accounted for as police continued to patrol the river near the scene of the accident. He was Fireman Mike Prochinski of Fort William who managed to swim clear of the burning vessel and give aid to several of his mates.

"It is a simple fact that no wage scale can be too high if it is matched by production. Shorter hours, holidays with pay and other concessions are of little avail in raising the real standard of living unless the volume of goods and services remain constant or increase under the new conditions."

IN HIS SPEECH, Mr. Mitchell referred to the increased responsibility of labor unions, listed employment statistics and touched on the government's immigration policy.

Mr. Mitchell said employment was now higher in Canada than ever, with close to 5,000,000 of the country's population of 12,000,000 being gainfully employed. Out of a net national income of $9,212,000,000 in 1946, $5,812,000,000 was in the form of wages, salaries and supplementary labor income.

In all industrialized nations of the world there was a shortage of manpower and steps were being taken to meet the problem by immigration.

General Strike Called in Trieste

By OSGOOD CARUTHERS

TRIESTE, FREE TERRITORY, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Radio Trieste announced that Sindicati Unati had called a general strike by Trieste late Tuesday and the British-American military government promptly declared the action was "the first Communist attempt to hamper the essential life of Trieste and bring discredit" to the weekold free territory.

To combat the tactics of the Communist-dominated union the military government said it would take "all steps necessary to ensure that every man and woman willing to work will be given the fullest protection."

Sindicati Unati had called strikes previously in the shipyards and gas works. The latter strike left the city without gas for heating and cooking and brought the number of idle to approximately 5,000.

The military government statement said it is obvious that agreement is being prevented by certain outside elements who for their own selfish political reasons are attempting to spread the strike."

Train Crew Expected "Special" Take Siding

WINNIPEG, Sept. 24.—(CP)—The crew of the Canadian National Railways' eastbound transcontinental—one of two passenger trains involved in a Labor Day collision—testified Tuesday they had expected the campers' special which crashed head-on into them to take to a siding and leave them a clear track.

THEY COMPRISED six of the nine witnesses heard as the Board of Transport Commissioners opened an inquiry into the disaster, worst in Western Canada's history, in which 31 were killed. All the dead, including the majority of the extra's crew, were aboard the westbound special. The hearing continues Wednesday.

The other witnesses were two members of the CNR's engineering department who testified about a map of the station area at Dugald, 20 miles east of Winnipeg, where the collision took place, and despatcher Arthur Smith who said his orders to the special should have caused it to take to the siding.

(The siding, long enough to hold 70 box cars, begins about 2,300 feet east of where the special struck the standing transcontinental.)

The crew of the transcontinental —No. 4—from Conductor F. O. Smith of Winnipeg who said he had been a conductor 29 years, and Engineer John R. Gibson, also of Winnipeg who said he had been an engineer 40 years—were unanimous in their expression of belief that the special was to have taken to the siding.

CALLED BY H. E. B. Coyne, legal counsel for the board, and admonished one by one by Chief Commissioner J. A. Cross to "feel exactly as you would if you were going about your normal duties," they said:

No. 4 had stopped at Dugald at about 2242 hours (10:42 p.m. CDT) to let off passengers. The third car from the engine was abreast of the station.

The east-bound order board showed red. This meant that the eastbound transcontinental train should stop.

None immediately noticed the west-bound board (railway officials later said this was natural since the west-bound board would have been better visible to the special which it was to govern) but when they looked at it after the collision it also showed red.

HAD THERE BEEN time, No. 4 would have proceeded toward the switch at the east end of the siding, stopped a short distance from the switch and its head brakeman would have thrown it to open the siding for the special. This, however, would have been an act of courtesy, not an obligation.

Had No. 4's brakeman thrown the switch, the special still should not have proceeded unless its crew saw the brakeman's signal or the proper light denoting it had been thrown, or both.

The speed at which the special was travelling was too great to permit its going into the siding safely even if the switch had been thrown.

THEY INTERPRETED their orders as giving them the right to the main line at Dugald.

A battery of counsel representing, in addition to the board and the CNR, the attorney general of Manitoba, railway-employe organizations, the families of persons killed and witnesses, asked only a few questions in cross-examination. The chief commissioner and Commissioners G. A. Stone and J. A. Stoneman interjected the occasional one.

The approximately 200 persons, including witnesses and a handful of women, who took up almost every seat in the court room, heard no questions in re-examination.

Mr. Gibson said that had the special not come in sight when it did he would have moved ahead to the east switch and waited for it there, expecting it to head into the siding.

THIS WAS HIS interpretation of what he thought should have been done in accordance with the order which gave the special "the right of way to Dugald but not beyond."

When he first saw the special, Mr. Gibson said, it was "coming quite fast" and about 15-20 car-lengths away.

To a question he said he thought the special was travelling at more than 30 miles per hour.

He had dimmed his headlights when he first saw the special so its crew "could see to throw the switch."

THEN, HE SAID, while reading his orders he heard the fireman cry, "They're not stopping."

"Jump," yelled Mr. Gibson.

"Away we went!"

Fate of Rodney, Nelson Being Considered

Britain May Scrap 2 Battleships

H.M.S. Nelson

H.M.S. Rodney

LONDON, Sept. 24.—(CP)— H. M. S. Nelson, one of the Royal Navy's greatest "battle-wagons," today is en route to a dockyard at Rosyth on the Firth of Forth on what may be her last voyage.

There she will join her sister ship H.M.S. Rodney, damaged by a mine during the Allied landings in Normandy in 1944 and now under repair.

The fate of these 22-year-old battleships which cost more than £14,000,000 ($56,000,000) to build—and which participated in most Allied landings during the Second World War—is unknown. Admiralty spokesmen said their future is "under consideration but no decision has been reached."

The 33,950-ton "Nellie", as she is affectionately known by the men who sailed in her, never was regarded as a beauty. With a long forecastle and superstructure rising sharply more than half way aft, she had the look of a tanker but the sting of a rattlesnake.

A magnetic mine damaged her in 1939: she was torpedoed two years later in the Mediterranean when she was flagship of Force "H" and was mined again in 1944, but she had sweeter moments.

The Italian armistice was signed on her decks, she silenced 17 German guns in a nine-ton-a-minute bombardment off Normandy and Japanese envoys boarded her to negotiate the surrender of Penang.

Many Complaints Received

Canada Tourist Trade Urged To 'Sharpen Up'

By Dave McIntosh

CHARLOTTETOWN, Sept. 24.—(CP)—Basking in the rosy figures of Canada's record tourist season, the visitor industry received several short, sharp punches Tuesday from the Dominion's travel bureau chief, D. Leo Dolan.

MR. DOLAN told some 50 delegates to the 13th annual convention of the Canadian Association of Travel and Publicity Bureaux here that:

He had received more complaints this year from tourists than in any other year since he had become head of the Bureau.

Further investments were needed in highways.

Food was deteriorating in most hotels and restaurants.

There was not enough attention being paid to reservations by hotels.

SOME railway coaches were in such bad shape that they should be scrapped.

Ground activities of some airlines were terrible.

Mr. Dolan said "I hate to estimate" the amount of money lost by resorts because the season ended on Labor Day.

He had taken the matter up with both of Canada's great labor organizations, the Trades and Labor Congress and the Canadian Congress of Labor, but they had been unwilling to advance the date of Labor Day.

He warned that the tourist industry could not expand its present volume, estimated between $230,000,000 and $240,000,000 this year, unless changes and improvements came "very, very soon."

Garth Cate of New York, chairman of the special committee of the National Association of United States Travel Officials, said there was something "drastically wrong" with the visitor business when it could take in only $221,000,000 in a season.

ONE STATE alone in the United States had taken in three times that amount.

He said Canadians must travel more and more and there must be a greater awareness of the necessity for a two way world trade before Canada could realize a full tourist industry.

Canada, even with a dollar shortage or for other reasons, could not afford to give the impression it did not want its citizens to travel or fewer visitors would come to this country.

U.K. Drafts Final Recovery Plans

LONDON, Sept. 24.—(Reuters)—Final blueprint for Britain's drive to beat the economic crisis demands production of £1,700,000,000 ($6,800,000,000) worth of exports from British workers during the next 15 months and promises no respite from austerity until the target is achieved, it was authoritatively disclosed last night.

The five-point plan for the operation of which workers will be directed and supply of materials controlled by the government, aims by the end of next year to close the £600,000,000 ($2,400,000,000) export-import gap by:

1. Cutting imports; 2. Cutting overseas expenditure; 3. Increasing exports; 4. Concentrating resources on essential industries; 5. Increasing home and colonial empire agricultural production.

Although the British adverse trade balance is approximately £600,000,000 the dollar adverse balance is £900,000,000.

This apparent discrepancy is explained by the fact that Britain has credit balances in many non-dollar countries.

Lock the Car

Saturday evening a Calgary man left his car in a parking lot. Monday morning he had no car, only a mass of wreckage doubtfully worth fishing out of a ravine; one youth was in hospital and two others were in the police cells charged with having taken an auto without the owner's consent. In plain terms, with having stolen the car.

The three, according to the police, had appropriated the parked car and gone for a ride. But the car got out of control, smashed through a guard rail and plunged into the ravine, coming to rest among trees a few feet from the Elbow river. Two of the boys are 16 years old, the other 17.

The moral? Well, there are several. The first one is—don't leave a car unlocked. Whether this one was locked or not, reports do not say. If it was locked, the moral is emphasized, not discounted, by the occurrence. An unlocked car is a standing temptation to boys, and to quite a number of older persons as well. Even locked cars are sometimes stolen. To leave one unlocked is sheer folly.

The Bystanders

The stage seems to be set for a long fight between the packing plant employes and the companies. The former say through their officials that they are prepared to stay away from their jobs for weeks or months. There is no indication that the companies are thinking of making an unconditional surrender. The inference is plain that, barring intervention by the provinces or the Dominion, the tie-up may extend into a battle of exhaustion.

Meanwhile farmers are losing money through having to feed stock that is ready for market, and through delayed cash returns from their investment and labor in raising the animals. It can be surmised also that a good many of them are losing enthusiasm for producing hogs and cattle and sheep. The long-time effect will be bad if their confidence in the live-stock branch of farming is shaken.

Perhaps excepting people in the largest centres, consumers do not seem to be faring as badly as predicted. Throughout the farming areas of the Dominion meat supplies are reported to have been sufficient thus far, with no imminent prospect of severe shortages. Farmers and retail butchers have been told they can obtain licenses from the Prices Board and do their own killing. But there has been no rush of applications for these licenses, which does not suggest that meat-scarcity has developed seriously as yet.

Up to this time there has been little or no consumer-pressure on the governments to intervene and bring about a speedy settlement of the dispute. The farmers in fact are pretty much alone in their anxiety to get the plants re-opened quickly. If this position continues it seems likely that many farmers and local butchers across the country will apply for the necessary licenses and resume the old-time practice of supplying meat to urban consumers direct from the farm and from town and village abattoirs.

What Do They Propose?

Britain, France and China decline to support the United States' proposal that a watch-dog committee be set up by the United Nations to spur the Security Council to action where issues arise which threaten to disrupt world peace.

That is one-half of the reaction which these powers are under moral obligation to put on record—the negative half. They have said what they do not approve. Then, what have they to offer as an alternative plan to make the Security Council an effective and impartial administrator of the policy upon which the United Nations organization is founded—the policy of blocking aggression and keeping peace by international intervention in quarrels which threaten to end in war?

Or is it the idea at London, Paris and Chungking that the Security Council is fulfilling its purpose by investigating disputes when democratic countries are the accused, but doing nothing about disputes in which Russia is blamed for inspiring guerilla tactics against democratic governments?

This has been the scope and character of the Security Council's record up to date, with just enough exceptions to establish the rule. There is no prospect that the Council will or can do better in future so long as the veto power remains unchanged. And as matters stand, no other agency of the United Nations can do anything in a case where the Council refuses to act.

Since they do not favor a committee armed with power to prod the Council, what alternative sparking attachment do these powers propose to install in the UN machinery?

Never Again?

The department of agriculture at Washington has made a survey of the world's food position and reports that there is "absolutely no hope" of filling the gap between requirements and available supplies. There isn't enough to go around—and winter is approaching.

Secretary Clinton Anderson sums it up saying that hungry nations will have to pull their belts tighter. No matter what is done, he says, many people are going to be hungry before another crop grows. "Many" in this instance means millions.

In detail the survey shows that the world yield of wheat and rye will be slightly larger than that of last year, but considerably below average, and "the need will be much greater." Greater because while drought—and floods in Britain—cut deeply into European yields, there is not enough surplus in aight oversea to make up.

A point to note is that "the war" didn't cause the present food shortage. It was the weather, the weather of two summers which have passed since the war ended.

This gloomy picture deserves world-wide attention, not because anything can be done to change it, but because nothing can be done. The nations are facing a situation which it is now too late to avert. That is the fact to think about and remember.

Not many years ago Canada and the United States were embarrassed by the enormous supplies of wheat and other foods for which they could not find buyers. Those mountains of unsalable products then seemed to be a liability. But time has brought us to the place where they might save great numbers of people from starvation—would certainly save millions from hunger—if they were now available.

As part of the plans to safeguard mankind from want the United Nations organization is proposing that food be stored up in years of plenty, against the lean years which come every so often. A glance at the unlovely picture presented at Washington surely emphasizes the urgency of doing this, sufficiently to enlist the interest and hearty support of every person in every country who senses the ugly realities of the present and cares what happens to his fellows.

The point is that it is not safe to assume that a world shortage of food will not occur. It does occur now and then. It has occured in this year of 1947. It should never occur again through failure to build up reserves of supplies whenever the world yield exceeds the current requirements.

Report From London

Lend-Lease and Foreign Exchange

By JOHN G. WINANT

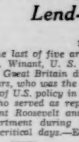
Former U.S. Ambassador to the Court of St. James

This is the last of five articles by John G. Winant, U.S. Ambassador to Great Britain during the war years, who was the chief interpreter of U.S. policy in London and who served as reporter for President Roosevelt and the State Department during Britain's most critical days.—Editor.

Article 5

Now I want to speak about the making of peace, and look at the relative position of Great Britain to Germany and Italy in manpower armaments, food, trade and foreign purchasing power at the outbreak of the war.

In order to get a correct measure of the task it is necessary to go back to the pre-war period rather than be wise after the event. It helps, also, to tie together many apparently unrelated and isolated facts in trying to evaluate correctly the importance of Lend-Lease. The Prime Minister described it as the "most unsordid act in the whole of recorded history." It is probably true that no act of a neutral power ever contributed more to the defeat of an aggressor nation. The Lend-Lease program was before Congress when I left the United States. It had been recommended by the President in his Annual Message to Congress. It was approved by large majorities in both Houses and became law on March 11, 1941.



WINANT

Lend-Lease was an invention of the President that opened the way for giving immediate and effective aid to those defending democracy and it was designed to avoid the aftermath of debt obligations which led Jo so much distrust and economic confusion after the First World War. It allowed us in that bleak December of 1941 to join with allies better equipped and more powerful because of our aid and it was because of the earlier British war orders and Lend-Lease which stimulated agriculture within the United States were already moving on a war basis. Lend-Lease was a practical measure. We could not say after declaring war that:

"We've got the ships,
We've got the guns"

and the airplanes, the tanks and all else, but we did have the plans to build them on a scale never before realized. We had the men and we had "the money too."

THERE IS ANOTHER consideration in developing the war industries in the United States that was important and understood. The German war industries were based on machine tools. They were the foundation for their industrial war machine. The industry in the United States that had done most in using machine tools to develop mechanized output was the automobile industry. The selection by the President of William S. Knudsen from the automobile industry was proof of that understanding. The contribution made by Knudsen to modernize industry through the intelligent use of machine tools and their directed allocations had much to do with the phenomenal production that amazed our allies and dismayed our enemies.

All this practical side of war received General Grant's messages to the War Department when he made his way down the Ohio River, and was forever writing about miles and wagons and shoes for his soldiers, while other generals who were doing less fighting were writing about Caesar and all the jargon of theoretical warfare.

And then I thought of George Marshall. A great warrior has comprehended the man—this tall figure who could grasp the total reach of war with practicality, imagination and global-mindedness.

I loved the courtesy he showed to General Pershing, his old commander. You did not need to be told that he would have the courage to pick a Lieutenant Colonel, Dwight D. Eisenhower and put him in command of the European Theatre of Operations, or that he would generously support General MacArthur, who had once been his superior as the Commander-in-Chief of the Pacific.

I DO REMEMBER Churchill turning to me toward the end of the war and saying, "Perhaps he was the greatest Roman of them all." This man knew the art of modern war, and what we owe him future generations will measure to his credit long after we are gone.

When I was in Switzerland, one of our abler statisticians at the International Labor Office explained to me that when the Nazis came into power the total annual earnings of the German people ranged between 37 and 38 billion marks, but that after the Nazis established their full employment scheme, which called for arbitrary assignment to work jobs and a longer work day, there was a steady increase of total earnings and that production for civilian use was stabilized at approximately 42 billion where it was pegged. Eventually total annual earnings increased to over 80 billion marks per annum. All of the surplus was devoted to armaments, none for the further improvement of the general welfare. The same system was introduced in order to ensure savings of foreign exchange and to permit accumulation of gold just prior to the war, and during the early periods of war before the Allied countries had put their economic warfare organizations, there was considerable strategic counter-buying and barieting. The importance of factors of this nature in the internal economy of a country and the necessity for foreign exchange.

In Britain the accumulated savings in holdings of outside securities and gold balances, with the limited outside areas for borrowings, could not relieve sufficient dollar-purchasing power, or other foreign exchange, to finance the war, but, on the other hand, increasing foreign trade meant the continued absorption of millions of men and women engaged to supply goods for foreign markets and tied up the merchant tonnage. This in the end drove the number of men and women available for the services and the vital war industries and reduced shipping for the procurement of basic war materials.

THE HEAVY LOSSES of merchant ships by submarine, raider and enemy aircraft and the extended patrol of the British Navy, with the resulting inability to provide convoys adequately, were felt early in the war. A consequence of these losses was the need for additional agricultural land in Britain, a domestic production because of the reduction of available tonnage for food imports.

The loss in the Dunkirk retreat of all British war material that had been shipped to France placed British home defence in a perilous position. It was then that the King asked his people to turn in their shotguns. It is interesting to remember that it was at this same time that one saw chalked up over the streets, and everywhere the simple words: "There will always be an England." This unanimic resolution, this complete unwillingness to admit defeat which I saw in the people was matched in their leaders.

The situation called for increased enlistments, increased output and a larger volume of imports of war materials which could only be purchased with monies acceptable to the country of manufacture.

Mr. Churchill had a complete grasp of the situation and when he took over the government he enor-

Italy on Its Own

Russia having finally ratified it, the wartime Allies' peace treaty with Italy will become effective ninety days after the document has been formally deposited and proclaimed. In a little over three months, therefore, the British and United States occupation troops in Italy (exclusive of the forces which will remain in the internationalized port of Trieste) must be withdrawn. The question arising out of this new situation is whether, with the armed power of the anti-Communist governments gone, Italy will be sucked into the Communist zone which eclipses it across the few miles of the Adriatic.

In considering these prospects it should be remembered that in the Italian election of 1946, when a republic was chosen in preference to the monarchy, the Communists won 104 seats in the assembly, 20 per cent of the total. The Italian Communist party, with 2,200,000 members, is one of the largest Communist groups outside Russia.

IN JUNE LAST the Communists, who had participated in the coalition government left it, following the same policy as the Communists of France. The decision of the Communists to go into opposition was dictated by the all Communist decisions, from Moscow, which was then preparing to divide Europe down the center. To reject the Marshall plan and to make as much trouble as possible for all existing democratic governments is the hope that resulting chaos would pave the way for a Communist upsurge later on.

Since leaving the government the Italian Communists have been following the same line as their French comrades—bitter opposition to United States' intervention in Europe. Though Italy is prostrate and unable to feed itself, all American aid for the country is denounced by the local Communists as an attempt to fasten the hideous evils of capitalism upon the people. It is the same story, of course, in France and even among the left wing of the Labor party in Britain.

ITALY WILL HOLD another election next spring. Before that time the Communists will have dropped their power, but the going is not easy. Russia has done almost everything possible to alienate the Italian people who in any case are inclined by their religion, history and character to oppose Communism. Russia insisted on hard peace-treaty terms for Italy by way of reparations—terms harder than Britain and the United States were ready to accept. Russia refused to allow Italy to enter the United Nations a few weeks ago because the Italian peace treaty had not been ratified by Russia. Then, when the treaty was ratified, Russia announced that it would still veto Italy's admission. Italians do not forget either that it was Russia which insisted that Trieste must be taken away from them and Russia which built up the menacing power of Yugoslavia at Italy's flank.

ON THE OTHER hand, the Italian people have good reason for gratitude toward the United States, which has given them $561 million in aid during the last two years, has lately cancelled $1 billions in war claims against them, returned 98 merchant ships and unfrozen 960 million dollars in gold sets which Italy can use for the purchase of American goods.

These are some of the factors in play as Italy faces a future without the strength of British and American aid. But the larger factor which will most deeply influence Italy's future as a Communist or non-Communist state is the outcome of the United States' decision on the Marshall plan which would offer Italy, and other European nations outside the Soviet zone, a chance of fundamental recovery. Nowhere is the decision on this great issue more anxiously awaited than in Italy.

Marshall Idea Good

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

Mr. George Marshall proposes that UN should keep an Assembly Committee of its entire 55 members in session all year round. Adoption of this proposal would greatly strengthen the world peace-keeping machinery.

As things now stand, the UN falls between two stools.

The Security Council is deadlocked, month after month, because of the heavyweight wrestling match between the United States and the Soviet. There is no prospect of any immediate improvement.

PHILPOTT

Meanwhile the Assembly cannot do its job as a free-speech forum, for expression of world opinion, because it is not allowed to deal with any matter which is already before the Security Council.

We see the deadlock between the big powers carried to such ridiculous lengths that ten full-fledged nations are barred from admission into the UN because the Russians fear that five of the applicants would vote with the U.S.; and because the U.S. fears that the other five would do the same thing the other way round.

IF WE REMEMBER the important issues of the past year we can see what a usefull function such an always-on-the-job Assembly could do.

The Security Council has continued to "pass the buck" about getting rid of the Franco Fascist dictatorship in Spain. Yet the Assembly, from its very inception, has been most insistent that action be taken to restore democracy in Spain.

The speeches in an all-year-round session would also lend to show the Greek tragedy in its proper perspective.

The Assembly would probably vote to support the Security Council majority's desire to set up a watchdog commission on the northern frontier. But the debates would certainly bring out the fact that the world's most responsible democrats are as deeply concerned about open U.S. support of corrupt, Royalist-Fascist reactionaries in Greece as they are about effects of secret Balkan support for armed Greek guerillas.

In the Indonesian war, the Assembly would certainly give more support to the Indonesian Republicans fighting for their freedom. It would rebuke the Dutch imperialists for their attempts to re-fasten shackles of colonial inferiority on peoples which have as much right to that freedom as the Dutch had to get back their own freedom from Germany.

THERE IS ONE real objection to the Marshall proposal. The cost of living in New York is really "out of this world." It is a real burden for small nations even to send their annual delegations to New York.

Could they afford to keep delegations there all year round?

I well remember the debate about the site for the UN capital.

The Polish delegate voted for Geneva and against New York, although the Russians were voting for New York.

Some of us asked: "Is there a split within the Slav bloc?"

It turned out that the Poles were appalled by the cost of the trip to, and living in, New York and wanted the headquarters closer to their home.

MR. MARSHALL'S other proposal—that another year be taken to study the veto question—also seems sensible.

The fundamental basis of the UN is unanimity between the Big Three. The basic bargain was "If we three cannot agree to do something—then we won't do that thing."

If that is so, would it not further If ALL big powers would try harder to find an honest basis of agreement than it would for one or other of them to try to find some loophole, or trick, to by-pass the really dangerous thing—which IS the disagreement.

"NORMAL" COST

Editor, Bulletin—In the issue of Sept. 18 "D.B." Why don't we fight against important things?" She asks, but which she names only a few of our problems to say nothing of being without warmth in the winter, and still queuing in snow, rain, or whatever the weather, on empty stomachs and price of coal suffers.

Both my husband and myself during the short holidays like Easter, have got up at 5:30 and stood in the queue (if any) at six in the moning until 8:30, before a loaf has been in our hands, but this I may add was only last year.

Yes the prices here are high and my husband's wages, 1, just scrape through on his wages without being able to save, so you can see we are not among the big heads. I do not know by what comparison this certainly is not only a land of plenty, but figuritively speaking the people, anyway for fairness and justice, just try my little 2 or business for a month and see how we and our progress, both physically and mentally. I trust by the end of the period you will have discovered it isn't so pleasant after all and will no doubt be very anxious to get down to a square meal. Irrespective of other's perspective, your own people are as well off as you or not. We can all give if we have plenty, but if we haven't everyone is for themselves and families, that is nature.

I sincerely hope also, that you will be a little more satisfied with your lot at present. There is plenty of margin for complaints in this country as well as all those who can, and do spare a thought for a country who is as badly off as England, and has received so little gratitude from you, after her grand part in the war. It is obvious you know very little of the matters and (if anything) but it's a blessing that you are one of few who are so selfish.

ANOTHER PROTEST

Editor, Bulletin—I have been reading, with great interest, your readers' views on dress lengths and, for once, they all seem to agree.

Paris and New York issue their ultimatum and we acquiesce whether we like it or not. We women should be permitted to make our choice rather than have these antiques thrust upon us against our will. These so-called "new" styles are perhaps fine for women of leisure, but can you imagine the multitudes of career girls during the rush hours picking up their skirts and making a vain attempt to board an already overcrowded tram. I don't think the designers have the average girl's interest in mind when they dreamed up these monstrosities, as from a practical standpoint they are even "out" before they're "in."

Records Yield No Clue

Unknown Amnesia Victim Might Be Canadian Agent

PARIS, Sept. 24.—(Reuters)—"Joachim Charles", 40-year-old amnesia victim thought to be either British or Canadian who has been under treatment in hospital since he was brought back to France from Germany by French prisoners of war in 1945, was interviewed Tuesday by British consular officials in a further effort to establish his identity.

Donald King, United States consul at Bordeaux, said: "I am convinced from talking to him—both while he was under drugs and out—that he is either an American or British agent who was probably flown into Germany He was found in some woods near Hamburg in July, 1943.

"He looks to me like an eastern European—probably a Czech or a Pole. When he was found his face was badly cut up and he had burns on his body."

British, American and Canadian war departments all reported, after studying the man's fingerprints, that they have no records of him. King said however that Allied intelligence services employed many persons during the war of whom they have no records.

"Charles" was described as five feet 10 inches in height, slender, with blue eyes, a large aquiline nose and dark receding hair. A picture of a girl, about 14 years old, provides the only clue to the identity of his family.

mously reduced the number of workers and ships engaged in foreign commerce. He was too old a soldier not to know the need of manpower and material in maintaining armies in the field, and too good a sailor not to know what freeing ships from nonessential merchant trade would mean at that time. Nor was he unaware of the need for foreign exchange, but he cast his bread upon the waters and put his trust in Western democracy. It was a close decision for, at the most critical moment when invasion still threatened, orders in the United States had to be cancelled because the British had no more American dollars, and all supplies coming from the United States were on a cash-and-carry basis. The sands of time were again running out.

IT WAS "All aid short of war" Roosevelt's Lend-Lease answer—that met this desperate need and allowed the British to carry on their gallant fight against greater numbers, better trained and better armed.

Lend-Lease gave Britain the tools for defense and later enabled her to take the offensive, equipped and strong, but the force of Russian and United States might was needed to "finish the job."

The decision of Congress six months after Lend-Lease to arm our merchant ships and permit them to enter combat zones was of vital importance in maintaining the lifelines of supplies from the American continent to the British Isles and other combat areas.

A change of British policy which took place prior to this decision was of great importance in permitting a more orderly flow of goods and armaments under Lend-Lease direct to Great Britain. The partial listing of British requirements for defense purposes had been forwarded to Washington from time to time in piecemeal lots. This was done for security reasons. It was feared that a total listing might get into enemy hands. If it did it would show up British shortages which might open them to attack where they were least able to meet it.

IN ORDER TO support our position in Britain I made a public address in Liverpool. It was in November 1941. Since these issues are still before us and we are in the process of remaking our economic policy, I would like to go back to the record and restate in part what I said then.

"There are two issues that face the free people of today—one is to see this war through and the other is to deal with the problem of reconstruction.

"When the war is over, we both will have to face an international and an external reconstruction in our two countries which must involve broad changes of policy. Among the questions that will have to be dealt with are those of exchange, of trade, and with them of employment and the standard of living These are things which should be studied and understood now so that the mistakes following the last war can be avoided when this war is ended . . .

"If we are to make democracy a reality in the fullest sense, we must make a drive, not less determined than the effort which we made to win the war, to employ our labor, materials and equipment to the fullest extent in order to achieve not merely an adequate but an constant standard of living for the entire population . . ."

THE ACCEPTANCE of a one-world good-neighbor foreign policy not only affects security but also cuts across concepts of domestic, economic and social progress. If the United Nations is to lift mankind it is not only necessary to redefine sovereignty in terms of co-operative security but also to permit the expansion of essential activities to satisfy human wants.

When the war came to us we developed further the idea of mutual aid—the idea that each ally must put everything it had into a common pool and that nobody would bother whether one contribution was larger or smaller than another so long as every contribution was everything.

It would have been advantageous to the British after we became fighting allies to have reduced their manufacture to fighter planes and to have increased the building of long distance bombers which they might have later converted into transport planes; to have built merchant ships which would have later been useful in their mercantile trade rather than build destroyers, and to have engaged a larger number of men in continuing their world cargo trade which in postwar years was essential to maintaining their standard of life. This, however, would not have been in the interest of the total war effort. We could produce in the United States bomber planes and merchant ships in mass production in greater numbers with fewer men and we needed to make large drafts on British manpower to prepare and support the invasion to France.

It was because the British accepted this principle of mutual aid that many of them hoped there might be compensatory readjustments when peace came, based on a fair measure of mutual sacrifice.

RETURNS TO DUTIES

OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—Resources Minister Glen was back at his desk Tuesday following a four-months rest occasioned by a head ailment and was reported in "excellent condition." He returned during the weekend from Vancouver, where he was with his mother on her 100th birthday.

By William E. McKenney

With the east and west coasts just an over-night hop apart, the big tournaments in the east have more entrants now from the Pacific coast. Many of the easterners are planning to go out to Coronado, Calif., to participate in the All-Western Championships in November. Murray Portugal of Los Angeles was with us this year at the national championships tournament and finished second in the men's pair event with Morrie Ellis of New York.

There is an important point in today's hand, in which Portugal held the North cards. Most expert players treat all doubles of no trump as business. When West overcalled Elis' heart bid with one no trump, Portugal felt that his side could not make a game. West undoubtedly had at least three spades, and if Elis had a spade suit, he would have bid it instead of hearts. Also, Portugal, holding a singleton heart, did not want his partner to rebid hearts. Therefore, by doubling, he said, "Partner, if you have a sound opening bid, I do not believe that the opponents can make one no trump." The play of the hand proved that he was right.

Declarer won the first trick with the jack of spades and led the four of hearts. Portugal won with the king and played the five of clubs, which South won with the king. A spade was returned, West played the nine, North won with the king, then knocked out the ace of spades. Declarer now played the four of diamonds, dummy played the queen, South won, cashed the ace of hearts, then led the ten of clubs. As a result Portugal and Elis had a plus score of 1100 points on this hand.

Harvest Delayed For Full Week

CALGARY, Sept. 24.—(CP)—Last week's snow and rain brought an average of two inches of moisture to Southern Alberta and 1½ inches to the northern part, the Alberta Wheat Pool said Tuesday in its weekly report. "It is not likely that threshing will start again in a general way for at least a week. Good drying weather is going to be needed for several days in order to dry out grain and soggy fields."

The report said in part: "It will be impossible to make a close estimate of the damage done by recent rains and snow until threshing is resumed. It seems likely, however, that there may be some small loss in yields especially in Southwestern Alberta where standing crops were flattened by a covering of two feet of snow.

"Grades of unthreshed grain will certainly be lower."

Suggests Use Ice On North Bridges

OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—(CP)—When Canada starts needing roads and bridges in the Arctic, what asks a National Research Council scientist, could be a cheaper building material than ice.

The suggestion comes from Dr. C. D. Niven, physicist who superintended project Habbakuk—the floating iceberg airdrome—one of the war's top secrets, a project not completed until the end of the war and never used. He brought the matter up at a recent meeting of scientists engaged in ice and snow research.

Long the building material of the Eskimo, ice is plentiful and cheap in the Arctic, Dr. Niven said. Mixed with wood pulp as it was for Habbakuk, it becomes strong as concrete and almost invulnerable to blasting.

Refrigeration pipes would keep Dr. Niven's bridges from melting behind him during the short Arctic summer.

Arabs Threaten U.S. On Palestine Plan

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The Arab countries Tuesday threatened counter-measures against the United States and Syria predicted a complete rupture of relations with any members that support the plan before the United Nations Assembly for partition of Palestine. The Middle East bloc said the Arab world would "take all necessary measures to oppose the United States both inside and outside the United Nations" if State Secretary Marshall supports the plan for Arab-Jewish partition. Syrian chief delegate Faris El Khoury said the Arab countries would "break off all relations" with members supporting partition.

Weatherman Gives Workers Time Off

OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—(CP)—Blow hot, blow cold, and it's a great day for the civil service. Too hot or too cold, that is. Little more than a month ago, when the thermometer was trying to boil over, government workers were given a couple of days off Tuesday, when the sudden cold wave caught firemen off guard, workers in the government's temporary buildings were told at noon they could leave for the day. With the building temperature at 52 degrees at the reconstruction department, work was carried on by a skeleton staff, which presumably rattled its bones in the decidedly chilly buildings.

Talkative Bandit After Kiss or Cash

VANCOUVER, Sept. 24.—(CP)—A conversational bandit, who wakens his victims by softly calling their names and turning a flashlight in their faces, early Tuesday stole $7 from Miss Lexa Fife, 22-year-old telephone operator. The thief, his face daubed with grease paint, asked Miss Fife for "a kiss or her cash," and got the money, leaving her one dollar. Miss Fife believes he got her name by going through her wallet which was later found missing.

Answer will be found in List No. 4.

Answer _____

WHAT TO DO IN ORDER TO WIN A PRIZE

DESCRIPTION OF CONTEST

1. Beginning Saturday, September 20, 1947, one drawing will appear each day in The Edmonton Bulletin. This drawing will represent a town, village or place in Alberta.
2. Lists will be published in the paper underneath the contest drawings giving the names of places from which the drawings will be selected, and it will not be necessary to use maps or an atlas in connection with the contest. The published lists are all that is required, and you are strongly recommended to cut out these lists each day and keep them, together with the puzzles, as they will be found very helpful in solving the puzzles.
3. Clues will be contained in each drawing as to the correct answer. These clues may consist of phonetical spelling of the name of the place, a situation depicted in the picture which suggests either part or whole of the place, or some other indication which will help in solving the answer.
4. The correct answers will be easy to find if you follow the clues, but study each puzzle carefully. Do not try and make an easy answer difficult, but on the other hand, each picture should be carefully studied so that you will not miss any indications in it which point to the correct answer.
5. All drawings are intended to test your skill and ingenuity, and not to try and trick you.
6. The contest will be divided into two classes, namely adults, and children under fourteen years of age.
   Each class will be judged separately, and different prizes awarded in each class. Children naturally, will not be expected to solve all of the puzzles, and for this reason, they have their own class where they are not in unfair competition with adults.
   Children under fourteen years of age will not be eligible for prizes in the adult class, and of course, adults will not be eligible for prizes in the class for children.
7. Adults and children will be allowed to submit as many entries as they wish so long as each entry is accompanied by a complete set of puzzle drawings or reasonable facsimiles of same. Please pay particular attention to notice on this page headed "Shortage of paper."
8. Full details of how to send in your entries will be published at the end of the contest. All puzzles must be held until that time and not forwarded to The Bulletin office until requested to do so. Entries received at this office before the official date for sending them in will be disqualified.
9. Lists of the names of the cities, towns or places from which the drawings will be selected will be printed each day until the list is exhausted. Approximately thirty lists will be published.
   These lists will be numbered, and you are strongly recommended to retain these lists with your puzzles as most of the puzzles will indicate what list or lists the correct answer may be found in.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Any person, by entering this contest, agrees and understands that it is a contest of individual effort and that the buying or exchanging of answers automatically disqualifies such contestant from winning a prize.

Any adult contestant, as a condition precedent to being awarded a prize, will be required to sign and execute under oath an affidavit attesting that he or she has not bought or exchanged answers to the contest.

Children will be requested to execute a similar instrument but not under oath.

Each contestant agrees to accept as final the decision of The Edmonton Bulletin on all matters affecting the contest, including the judging of answers, the establishment of time limitations, disqualification for any cause deemed necessary, the interpretation of these rules and any regulations that may be announced by the officials of this contest. No answers will be returned.

Entries that are unsigned or illegible will not be considered, nor will The Edmonton Bulletin be responsible for entries or communications lost or unduly delayed in the mails.

ANSWERS TO PUZZLES IN THIS CONTEST ARE KNOWN ONLY BY THE CONTEST EDITOR AND ANYONE OFFERING FOR SALE OR OTHERWISE ALLEGED ANSWERS TO THIS CONTEST IS MERELY OFFERING HIS OWN IDEAS OF WHAT THE CORRECT ANSWERS MIGHT BE.

SPORTS

HAROLD DEAN, Sports Editor

WINNIPEG SCOTTISH WILL NOT BE appearing in an exhibition game in Edmonton on their way home from the Dominion soccer final in Vancouver, where they absorbed a hot wallop of very elegant shinsoft.

While the right to decide when and where to play exhibition matches is not denied the Winnipeggers, their action in first accepting and then rejecting the proposal for the game here made by Edmonton District Football Association, leaves officials of that organization and of North Side Legion club, more than a bit puzzled.

No explanation has been forthcoming for the sudden about-face. Could it be the Scottish didn't wish to run a chance of a loss to North Side Legion to still further humiliate them? Or did they envision an opportunity to make themselves a tidy piece of change over and above liberal stop-over expenses?

In any event they apparently had a premonition of the second defeat in Vancouver—which naturally would detract from their gate drawing power—for the wire expressing the new conditions was dispatched well before kick-off time for the second game.

Wires Exchanged Tell the Story

FOLLOWING THE MEETING OF THE association here on Sunday, President Tom Green had wired offering the Winnipeg club 75 per cent of the gate and suggesting Thursday, or Saturday depending upon termination of the final series.

The wire of acceptance received Monday read: "Accept terms subject to end of series here." That seemed quite clear and steps were immediately taken to arrange for the game.

Naturally it was a surprise to President Green when three hours later a second wire arrived, as follows: "Reconsidered offer. Must have five hundred dollar guarantee. Immediate reply appreciated."

The Scottish got the reply alright. It read: "Original offer stands. Otherwise no game here. Wire instructions.". Winnipeg team officials at least had the courtesy to reply; "No game. Travelling through to Winnipeg."

Tom Thinks "We Were Generous Enough"

PRESIDENT TOM GREEN'S REACTION to the affair last night was, "I think we were generous enough and cannot understand their attitude. Nobody could put up $500 under such conditions and it is unreasonable to expect a gate to cover a guarantee like that on such short notice."

Martin Collingwood, manager of the North Side Legion club, was more emphatic. "If they didn't want a game they shouldn't have accepted in the first place."

Martin also added that tentative arrangements for the game were made while the Legion team was in Winnipeg for the recent prairie final. "I feel positive we could beat them on a decent playing field —their's is no better than a back lane."

Wetaskiwin Juniors Start Tonight

WETASKIWIN CANADIANS WILL HOLD their first workout at the arena tonight from 8.30 to 10.30, with Coach Clarence Moher in charge.

Several prospective members of the team have not yet returned from hockey camps and Ken Henry, member of the directors committee, stated last night it probably would be a week before all players report.

The team will be out again Thursday night and it is anticipated the club will continue to hold daily practices when the ice is available.

Edmonton Yearlings at Woodbine Sale

INCLUDED AMONGST WESTERN YEARLINGS which will go on the auction block at Woodbine Park in Toronto, Oct. 3, are several from Gloverdale Stock Farm, owned by Jack Glover, president Edmonton District Thoroughbred Society.

It is a noteworthy fact that the British Government has admitted that sport is of such importance in a nation's life it justifies financial assistance. Securing of and paying qualified coaches seems a logical step likely to be taken in other progressive countries.

Jack McGill, Harry Ornest and Johnny Gray left early this morning for the east by car. Johnny will veer off toward St. Louis when Chicago is reached and Ornest and Harry will go on to the world series. Ron Matthews left Monday for the Hershey (Boston) hockey camp. Flyer Coach Frank Currie admitted last night, "Things are smoothing out."

Louise Suggs Triumphs 6 and 4

U.S. Women's Tourney Running True to Form

DETROIT, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Gusty winds which swept the rolling fairways of Franklin Hills Country Club Tuesday failed to halt a steady parade of favorites through first round matches in the women's United States national amateur golf championship.

Medalist Louise Suggs, diminutive Lithia Springs, Ga., star played within two strokes of par in downing Dorothy Germain, Indianapolis school teacher 6 and 4.

TWO ONTARIO women in the tournament fared less well than the American stars. Mrs. John A. McDougald of Toronto was beaten 4 and 2 by Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich.

Grace Lencyzk, 26-year-old Newington, Conn., holder of the Canadian women's open crown, defeated Mrs. Burt Well of Cincinnati 3 and 4. Miss Lencyzk was seven strokes over par as far as she went.

HOTTEST thing as the week-long event reached the match play stage, was Helen Sigel, brilliant Philadelphian who was runner-up for the national title six years ago. Tall Miss Sigel disposed of Margaret Russell, of Detroit, 8 and 6.

Mrs. W. R. Kirkland of New York, runner-up for the Metropolitan district championship this year was just two strokes over par when she finished off the Illinois state champion, Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, 5 and 3.

LADDIE ERWIN, tall representative of Montclair, N.J., who beat Mrs. Kirkland in the Metropolitan finals, kept pace by downing Rosann Shaffer of Toledo, Ohio, 5 and 4.

Narrowest squeak was the one-up decision by Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, six-time former champion, over Margaret Gunther of Memphis, the Tennessee title holder.

Chess Meeting

There will be a meeting of the Edmonton Chess Club tonight, at 8 o'clock in the club room over the Imperial Bank. As matters of great importance to the club will be discussed at this meeting, it is requested that a full attendance of all members will turn out.

Plans for the coming winter season will also be decided at this meeting.

Smythe Tosses Vicious Slant At Baseball

ST. CATHERINES, Sept. 24.—(CP)—Hockey's Conn Smythe threw a hard, high one at baseball as he watched his world champion Toronto Maple Leafs drill.... "They call baseball big time but there isn't a man on the ice who doesn't make more in one season than Brooklyn Dodgers are paying Jackie Robinson this year."

REPORTERS who heard the fiery puck leader's quip after yesterday's workout took it to mean that every member of the team will receive more than the $5,000 minimum salary which the National League pennant winners have been reported to be paying their sensational negro rookie first baseman.

But Smythe didn't devote too much time to wage comparisons and announced that Todd Sloan would be recalled from Pittsburgh Hornets farm club to give the National League entry right wing strength on its fourth front line.

SLOAN, former scoring ace of Toronto St. Michael's College juniors, turned pro with the Leafs last fall, but spent his first season in moneyed ranks with the Hornets at both centre and right wing.

Working into top condition faster than some of his mates, big Harry Watson of Saskatoon flashed past Smythe and caused him to remark: "They keep asking me what I think of the Billy Taylor (Detroit Red Wings) for Watson deal. Well, if I could get another winger like Watson, I'd be able to take things easy."

Buffalo Rallies To Knot Series

SYRACUSE, Sept. 24.—(CP)—Buffalo rallied from the brink of elimination by pushing across three runs in the 12th inning last night to defeat Syracuse Chiefs and deadlock their best-of-seven final playoffs for the International League Governor's Cup at three victories each.

B.C. Boxla Team Crushes Elmwood

WINNIPEG, Sept. 24.—(CP)—A powerful British Columbia all-star squad from Vancouver here last night overpowered Elmwood Terriers 16-3 in the first of a two-game total-goals series for the Western Canada junior lacrosse title before about 1,200 fans.

Second game will be played here tonight with the winner meeting emerging into the Dominion final against the Eastern champions.

Ed Hamson, Don Fleming and Bill Hannula par'ed the far-wingers with four points apiece, Hamson and Fleming getting three goals and one assist each, while Hannula bagged one counter and set up plays for three more. Graham Foster and Ray Zimmer with two goals apiece, Lyle Scott, Jack Byford, Lou Landess and Chuck Cruickshanks tallied the remainder. Harold Ford, Jeff Liggett and Allan Smallwood counted for Terriers.

When the Golden Bears trot out against the Toronto Blues at Clarke Stadium a week from tonight, Harry Irving, freckled six-footer, above, will help carry the load in a passing way for the Green and Gold. Besides heaving the ball the ex-Calgary junior has shown himself to be the most consistent booter on the squad in recent workouts. And a round out his gridiron versatility the 18-year-old pre-Law student shakes loose for ground gains from the right half position.

New talent from the freshman class to report to the Bear workouts yesterday were Johnny Krause, Rod Clark, and Don Black. Krause and Clark have played in the line for the junior Maple Leafs and West End Caps respectively, while Black is an end from Calgary.

Champs Back Into Final

World Series Marks Topple Before Play

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The world series won't start until 1:30 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 30, in New York's Yankee stadium, but already a flock of unofficial records have been established.

It is the first time that both contestants—in this case, New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers—have backed into the series.

The Yanks clinched their American League pennant Sept. 15 while seated in their locker room at Chicago White Sox trounced Boston Red Sox, eliminating the Boston club from the race.

MONDAY night the Dodgers became National League champions as Chicago Cubs stopped St. Louis Cardinals.

The series also is the first since Kid Gleason and his Chicago White Sox clashed with Pat Moran's Cincinnati Reds in 1919 in which a pair of freshmen managers will oppose each other. Stanley (Bucky) Harris was drafted from the Yankee business office to direct the field play of the team last winter. Burt Shotton was drafted from his Florida porch to direct the Dodgers after commissioner A. B. Chandler had suspended Leo Durocher, erstwhile Brooklyn boss.

BOTH MANAGERS, however, have had previous experience as field leaders. Harris now is the graying "boy wonder" of Washington Senators a quarter of a century ago. Shotton directed the lowly Philadelphia Phillies for six years before retiring a decade ago.

It is the first series in which a negro, the Dodgers' Jackie Robinson, will participate.

And it also is the first series since 1940 scheduled for seven consecutive days without a break for either travelling or ticket selling. The subway series, with the two parks separated only by the price of a nickel, made travel dates unnecessary.

Timely Milwaukee Double Brings Win

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Rookie outfielder Ray Fietch last night doubled with two on and two out in the 10th to give Milwaukee Brewers a 3-2 victory over Louisville Colonels and a 3-2 edge in the final American Association playoffs. Reliefer Jim Wallace was the winner and reliefer Earl Toolson the loser.

Al Epperly and Widmar hooked up in a tight mound duel the first eight innings.

Ewals Pyle will pitch for Milwaukee and Jim Wilson for Louisville tonight.

Great Outfield Makes Yanks Solid Favorites

By Joe Reichler

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—(AP)—New York Yankees have been installed as heavy favorites over Brooklyn Dodgers in the 1947 world series which starts next Tuesday largely because they have in Joe Dimaggio, one of the greatest outfielders in the game today.

No flychaser on the Dodgers can come close to matching the Yankee Clipper either at bat or in the field, although in Dixie Walker the Brooks have one of the most dependable and smartest hitters in baseball.

It is doubtful even if Walker or Pete Reiser, best of the Dodgers' outfielders, can match Tommy Henrich, hustling Yanks' right-fielder who with Johnny Lindell comprises just about the best outfield in the majors. This trio easily rates the call over Walker, Reiser and either Carl Furillo or Gene Hermanski.

ALTHOUGH Dimaggio is the only outfielder hitting over .300, each of the Yankee trio has belted 10 or more home runs and Henrich has driven in more runs than even his illustrious centrefield mate, Henrich, with 95 runs batted in, is second only to Ted Williams of Boston Red Sox in the league. He has clouted 16 home runs. Dimaggio has batted in 94 runs and hammered 19 out of the park.

In the field the Yankee picket line leaves nothing to be desired. Each can run and get 'em and each can throw with the best. Dimag is reputed to have one of the most accurate throwing arms in baseball.

THE FINE all-round work of this regular trio has overshadowed the play of 24-year-old Al Clark, a hard-hitting outfielder acquired from Newark of the International League early in August.

The Dodgers outfield, despite its lack of a home-run punch, could have come close to providing a match for Dimag and company if Reiser, a great player before the war, could have escaped some of the numerous injuries he has incurred the last few seasons. He currently is being "rested" following his latest mishap—a twisted ankle.

REISER still has been able to pace his mates with the stick, batting .312 in 107 games. He also has outshone his yates in the field with only three errors in 244 chances. Walker a veteran of 16 years in the big time, is another better-than-.300 batsman. He has driven in 92 runs. Only his legs (he is 37 years old today) keep him from getting the call over Henrich in right field. His 10 errors are "high" among the flychasers on both sides.

A real problem faces boss Burt Shotton of the Brooks when it comes to selecting his third outfielder. All season long he has alternated Furillo and Hermanski with DJ Mikata, Arky Vaughan and Al Gionfriddo getting an occasional assignment in left field.

Red Wings Fly To 8-2 Victory

WINNIPEG, Sept. 24.—(CP)—Power to spare was illustrated here Tuesday night by a Detroit Red Wing team composed of several veterans and a great many rookies who combined to defeat the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League 8-2 in an exhibition tilt.

The National Leaguers were sparked by Max McNab, lanky centreman and rookie from Watson, Sask., and Jim McFadden who scored three and two goals respectively. Gerry Couture, Roy Conacher and Mike Yaschuk notched singletons for the winners.

WELL-SEASONED Norm Burns scored one of the Cleveland goals and was the best of a club that threw as many newcomers into the game as possible in an effort to view their prospects. Neil Strain scored the other Cleveland Marker.

DETROIT —Jesman; Stewart, Quackenbush; Conacher; McNab, Couture, Subs — McFadden, Yaschuk, McKay Howe, Jenkins, Morrison, Miller, Lund, Summers, Lavitt, Sawchuk (goal).

Dick Lowe Hurls A No-Hit Game

A brilliant no-hit pitching performance by Dick Lowe carried off the Hi-Way 16 baseball crown for Naman recently. The youthful righthander who signed with the Brooklyn Dodger organization last month faced 29 batters in whitewashing North Edmonton 2-0 in the third game of the best-of-three series.

IT WAS almost a perfect game for the young farmer. He issued a single free pass and had one miscue committed behind him. Otherwise he completely muffled the North Edmonton hickory. Neither of the two runners got past first base.

On the opposing hill Jim Barker chucked a six-hitter. He allowed no walks but three errors behind him spoiled his chances.

Rookies in Spotlight At Buffalo-Shore Camp

SASKATOON, Sept. 24. — (CP) — Special attention was paid to the rookies as the combined Buffalo-Eddie Shore training camp went through its second day at the arena here Tuesday. Rookies from the Fort Worth and Oakland clubs were ordered out together and later went through a session with the Buffalo recruits.

With Eddie Shore slated to arrive from the east and Art Chapman, Buffalo manager, due in Friday, it is likely that the size of the camp will be considerably reduced by the week-end.

Shea and Reynolds Win for Yanks

Jackie Robinson Day Features Dodger Win

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—(CP)—Brooklyn celebrated its new National League baseball championship yesterday as the home folks saw the Dodgers beat their old rivals, New York Giants, 6-1. It was Jackie Robinson Day at Ebbets Field.

The St. Louis Cards had eliminated themselves from the pennant chase Monday night by losing to Chicago, and with the pressure off the Dodgers had no trouble snapping a three-game losing streak. Joe Hatten warmed up in impressive style with a five-inning stint during which he allowed only three hits including Bobby Thomson's first - inning homer, his 28th. Don Bankhead finished up the game for the Brooks.

ROBINSON, negro first baseman who last year starred with Montreal Royals of the International League, was given a new automobile, a television set, a $500 watch, an inter - racial good will plaque and cash gifts before the game. But he went hitless in two trips before he was replaced by Ed Stevens, a rookie from Montreal.

Manager Burt Shotton tossed his reserves into action midway in the game and gave catcher Bruce Edwards and Dixie Walker a complete rest. Sheldon Jones had a no-hitter going for three and two third innings when he walked the bases full with two out in the fourth. Spider Jorgensen delivered a two-run single and the Brooks never yielded the lead.

It was Hatten's 17th victory and Jones' second loss.

SCORING all their runs in the fourth inning, Chicago Cubs defeated Cincinatti Reds 7-2 before 1,311 fans at Cincinnatti as Hank Wyse turned in a six-hitter for his sixth victory of the year. Cincatti needs one victory to clinch fifth place in the standings.

Bill Nicholson started off the Cubs' seven-hit splurge in the fourth with his 25th homer of the year.

Ralph Kiner, slugging Pittsburgh outfielder, hit his 51st home run of the year last night but it wasn't enough to save the Pirates from another defeat as the second-place St. Louis Cardinals whipped them 8-4 before a chilled gathering of 10,350.

NEW YORK Yankee world series stock soared as Allie Reynolds and Frank Shea turned in a pair of brilliant pitching jobs in a double victory over Washington Senators, 2-0 and 5-1.

Joe Page, warming up for his customary late-inning job, worked the ninth inning of both games to tie a Yankee pitching mark set by Jack Chesbro in 1904 when he appeared in 55 games.

Reynolds, one of the men under consideration for the opening game role against the Dodgers, allowed six hits in his eight-inning stint for win No. 18. He walked three and struck out five while blanking the Senators in the opener.

Shea turned in a spectacular effort that may have shoved him into the No. 1 spot on the staff in earning his 14th victory. The sensational rookie allowed only Frank Mancuso's fifth-inning single in the first seven innings while Joe Demagrio's 20th homer in the fourth and Bill Johnson's 16th homer with Jack Phillips on base in the seventh had given him a 3-0 edge.

AFTER being held to five hits by Phil Marchildon of Pentanguishene, Ont., for 9-3 setback in the opener, the dethroned American League champion Boston Red Sox said their 1947 farewells at Boston with a 6-5 victory while splitting a doubleheader with Philadelphia Athletics. It was Marchildon's 18th victory of the year.

One of Boston's first-game hits was Ted Williams' 31st homer with none on in the fifth inning.

The slim, curtain-dropping crowd totalled 4,388, which boosted the Fenway Park all-time record figure to 1,437,318.

HAL NEWHOUSER used his 16th victory of the season to pitch Detroit Tigers back into undisputed possession of second place with a 4-1 triumph over Chicago White Sox before 642 chilled cash customers at Chicago.

Newhouser allowed 10 singles but did not give up a run until the ninth.

Dale Mitchell tripled to send two team mates across the plate in the seventh inning and put Cleveland Indians out in front for a 7-1 American League victory over the last-place St. Louis Browns before 767 fans.

Co-Operation Questioned

Japanese Peace Plans Hinge On Russia Stand

By Ross Munro

OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—(CP)—The most serious immediate question in getting the machinery underway to work out a Japanese peace treaty is whether Russia will co-operate, but there is a general hope in Ottawa that the Soviet will participate in the settlement.

AS A PACIFIC power, Canada is keenly interested in the settlement, particularly that made for the northern Pacific, and it is pointed out here that it is obviously in the Dominion's interest to have Russia share in the settlement.

Far Eastern experts here do not appear to be as sanguine as Defence Minister Claxton, just returned from the Canberra Commonwealth conference on the Japanese treaty, in his hope that a preliminary conference on Japan may be held within a few weeks.

But it seems likely that during the United Nations Conference in New York, expected to continue into December, the members of the 11-nation Far Eastern Commission will gather for discussions on Japan.

LAST JULY, the United States proposed that the commission meet to begin work on the Japanese treaty and this proposal was endorsed by all 11 members, except the Soviet Union.

Russia objected strenuously to the American plan for a two-thirds majority rule in the voting and insisted that the Council of Foreign Ministers control the whole affair.

There is going to be a showdown on this procedural issue between the United States and Russia before any real progress can be made, but Russia has not got the stake in the Japanese settlement she has in the German one and she may be more open to persuasion.

The United States plan, endorsed by Canada is for the Far Eastern Commission to do the basic work on drafting the treaty and then submit it to a full conference of all countries which declared war on Japan.

MEMBERS of the Far Eastern Commission are the Big Five—United States, Britain, Russia, France and China—and Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India, Netherlands and the Philippines.

There is a very substantial agreement already on many aspects of the proposed settlement and it will be easier than the German problem because there are not anything like the complications in territorial revision.

Two Records Seen For Port Churchill

CHURCHILL, Man., Sept. 24.—(CP)—When navigation closes at this northern Manitoba port around the middle of October, Churchill is expected to have set two records.

It will have exported a record amount of grain, slightly better than the 4,296,501 bushels shipped through the Hudson Bay route in 1936 and it will have reached the stature of Canada's second largest wheat exporting port.

Normally Vancouver holds the second honor, but this summer because of depletion of stocks when the new crop year started Aug. 1, its wheat exports have fallen below average. Wet weather in Alberta, hailing deliveries from that province to the west coast port contributed to this falling off.

Churchill, on the other hand, has been fed grain steadily from Manitoba fields, first to be harvested in the west.

Convicted

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Adolph Kalikaukas, 26-year-old mechanic, accused of twice knocking down women with his automobile, offering to drive them to hospitals and then raping them, was convicted late yesterday of kidnapping, rape and assault. Sentence will be pronounced Oct. 25. The minimum sentence is 125 years.

Sask. Explains Pensions Action

REGINA, Sept. 24.—(CP)—As a result of the federal government's action in boosting the basic old age pension from $25 to $30 a month Saskatchewan is withdrawing the $5 supplementary allowance it has been paying since 1945, J. S. White, deputy minister of social welfare, said Tuesday.

He termed "erroneous and misleading" a story carried by the Ottawa Morning Journal saying Saskatchewan was reducing its old age pension payment and that with the raising of the basic pension to $30 it would continue paying $5 supplementary to the basic rate.

Mr. White said Saskatchewan had never entered into any agreement to continue paying the supplementary allowance, many of the provinces undertook to pay this bonus themselves during the war years because of the federal government's heavy wartime obligations.

Before the basic pension was boosted to $30 at the last session of Parliament, the federal government paid 75 per cent of it. Saskatchewan paid 25 per cent, plus the supplementary allowance of $5.

Under the new arrangement, Saskatchewan will drop the $5 bonus and bill the Dominion government for 75 per cent of the basic pension.

When the federal government announced its new pension plan it advised the provinces they could augment the basic amount from their own treasuries if they wished. Mr. White said Saskatchewan had not committed itself to a further increase then or later.

Blame Prisoners For Minor Riot

WINNIPEG, Sept. 24.—(CP)—A disturbance last Friday at Headingley provincial jail in which cell equipment was destroyed was blamed on nine "long term" prisoners in a report submitted Tuesday by Sheriff D. C. M. Kyle, provincial inspector of jails, to Attorney - General J. O. Mclenaghen.

The action started, according to the sheriff's report, when two inmates of 12 confined in one cage, were put in their respective individual cells within the cage after a boisterous disturbance. Some of the remaining prisoners resented the guard's action and proceeded to break up and "totally destroy the furnishings and equipment in their cells."

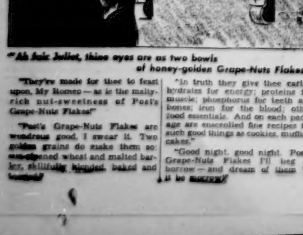
In his report, Sheriff Kyle upheld the guard's disciplinary action as being "fully justified," and disciplinary measures be taken against those prisoners concerned."

Need Helicopter To Paint Chimney

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Sept. 24.—(CP)—Officials of the provincial mental hospital here have nothing on the man who built a better mousetrap—they, built a taller smokestack and for a while were worried about how to paint it. Now they think they have the solution. A helicopter will attempt to drop a hook, complete with painters' sling over the rim of the 140-foot chimney.

Opposes Loan

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Senator Clyde M. Reed (Rep., Kas.) called aid to Britain "fantastic" when "its miners won't even mine coal" and expressed opposition yesterday to another loan at present. He said in an interview he would not vote "another cent" for aid until Great Britain "puts its economic house, including labor, in order."



"Ah Suzie Juliet, thine eyes are as two bowls of honey-spider Grape-Nuts Flakes!"

"They're made for thee to feast upon, My Romeo—as is the mainly-rich nut-sweetness of Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes!"

"Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes are wondrous good, I swear it. Two golden grains do make them so: sun-ripened wheat and malted barley, delightfully blended, baked and toasted!

"In truth they give thee carbohydrates for energy; proteins for muscle; phosphorus for teeth and bones; iron for the blood; other food essentials. And on each package are successful fine recipes for such good things as cookies, muffins, cakes."

"Good night, good night. Post's Grape-Nuts Flakes I'll keep or borrow—and dream of them 'til I do succeed!"

Druggists Hear Talks on Service

In the interest of promoting professional pharmacy, and pointing out the services of the drug stores as health centres of the community, V. E. Hessell and A. A. Brown of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association, addressed about 85 druggists at the Masonic Temple recently.

Mr. Hessell explained selling features which would step up the wealth services of drug stores to the public and the physicians. Then he presented a sound film "The Drug Store of Tomorrow" which pointed out how modernization and store renovation would simplify consumer purchasing facilities.

Mr. Brown followed with a paper entitled "Building Drug Store Good Will."

William Goldberg was chairman, and Frank Lee moved a vote of thanks to the speakers. In replying, Mr. Hessell spoke of the work being done by the Canadian Society for the Advancement of Pharmacy, in building up pharmaceutical standards, by scholarships to worthy students, and co-operation with the departments of pharmacy of Canadian universities. The meeting closed with a buffet supper.

Seek Boost Output Commonwealth Gold

LONDON, Sept. 24.— (AP) — Specific proposals for stepping up Commonwealth gold production and for making more gold available to dollar-short Britain were discussed Tuesday when Commonwealth representatives continued their financial talks with British officials. The discussions are taking place in closed session and aim at pooling the dollar resources of Dominion governments in the sterling area to tide Britain over her financial and economic crisis. A treasury spokesman said the talks, opened last Friday by Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer, were on the basis of an "urgent interchange of ideas and information." Canada, in the dollar area, is not taking part in the talks.

Plan Huge Fund For Child Relief

LONDON, Sept. 24.—(Reuters)—Building of a £775,000,000 ($1,500,000,000) fund to meet emergency relief of children, young people, expectant and nursing mothers without discrimination of race, creed, nationality or political belief is being planned by United Nations appeal for children, it was disclosed here Tuesday. Michael Lubbock, European regional director of UNAC, who has just returned here after an extensive tour of nine European countries, declared that the United Nations wants to make the initials of UNAC as famous as UNRRA.

Grant Tax Relief To Alta. Farmers

CALGARY, Sept. 24.—(CP)—Income tax relief for many Alberta farmers is contained in a "directive" received by the Calgary income tax office, and released here Tuesday. Essence of the new policy, which had been urged on the Dominion government by the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, is that grain grown before 1946 but not sold until 1946 or 1947 because of quota restrictions may now be credited for tax purposes to the year in which it was grown. This is optional with the farmer, but it means that if he sold his 1942 grain in 1945, putting him in a higher 1945 income tax bracket, he can now apply that 1942 grain to his 1942 income, reducing his 1945 tax and increasing his 1942 tax.

3 Million Damage To East Tobacco

DELHI, Ont., Sept. 24.—(CP)—An estimated $2,250,000 damage was caused to flue-cured tobacco crops in this southwestern Ontario district by Monday night's heavy frost, growers said Tuesday. They had approximately 10,000,000 pounds of tobacco. Growers based their estimate of the monetary loss on last year's minimum average price of 33 1/3 cents a pound. Authorities estimated that close to 90 per cent of the crop had been harvested before the frost struck.

Sign Painter Near Discovery?

Lost B. C. Gold Mine Baffles All Comers

VANCOUVER, Sept. 24. — (CP) — For more than 50 years, the fable of the lost mine of Slummock has fired the imagination of gold seekers throughout British Columbia and today, a chubby balding sign painter said he believed he knew its location.

EACH SUMMER for the last 25 years, Cyril Wraight has tramped into the snow-capped fastness of rugged coast range, each trip tracing down one more of the slim clues left by the man who carried the secret of the mine's location to his grave.

A middle-aged half-breed named Slummock mounted the steps of a crudely-made wooden gallows at the provincial penitentiary at New Westminster, B.C., at turn of the century and stoically watched as the hangman performed last minute precautions.

He died without revealing the location of the spot where for years he had gathered the nuggets the size of walnuts to finance his periodic trips to Vancouver—a secret he had murdered to keep.

In 1903, John Jackson, veteran Alaskan prospector, visited New Westminster and went in search of Slummock's lost mine. He returned laden with nuggets, but the ordeal of the trip had proved too much, and he died without returning to the mine.

ON HIS DEATHBED, he wrote a letter to Dr. Hall, and a copy of that letter fell into Mr. Walters' hands in 1922.

"The letter says the gold is in a place less than 20 miles from the head of Pitt River, where a stream flows down a canyon and disappears from sight," Walter said.

The approximate location is 40 miles north of here.

"The canyon is guarded by three peaks which stand as sentinels. I found the peaks and the canyon," he said, "and followed it to another canyon which fits the discription. But I couldn't get down because of ice and snow."

Walters plans to go out again next spring to make what he hopes will be the final, and successful, attempt to locate Slummock's lost mine.

Claims "Politics" Hold Up Seaway

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(AP) —An advocate of the long-discussed St. Lawrence seaway and power project asserted today that "were it not for political considerations this great international development would now bear the approval of congress."

Dr. N. R. Danalien, vice-president of the National St. Lawrence Association, commenting on the recent inspection of the proposed seaway by the House of Representatives public works committee which has before it legislation to authorize the development, also said:

"The committee must know now that there is great popular demand for the seaway and that it is not being promoted by only a few."

Members of the committee, while declining to express an individual stand on the legislation upon which they will eventually be called to pass, gave assurances "that they will look at it thoroughly and objectively."

School Tragedy

NEWTON, Mass., Sept. 24.—(AP)—A blaze of fire that ended student hopes for a school holiday. The school's heating plant was inoperative but school officials connected a steam roller to the heating system and rapidly warmed up class rooms.

SUNDAY IN THE AMERICAN COLONIES

Sunday in early New England was a day of restraint. The Puritans had a fixed idea that the Sabbath should be strictly observed. Even in Virginia and New York, where the people were not so strict, there were rigid laws for one's conduct on that day. "In Massachusetts the law provided that no person should be permitted to walk in the streets on Sunday, except in reverently going to church."

A simple religious service in the early days of one of the colonies. The men carried their guns even to church, in case of attack by hostile Indians. It was the custom to have two or three religious services each Sunday, with a recess at noon for dinner.

Both in the North and the South it was the custom to have two or three religious services during a single Sunday, with a long recess at noon for dinner. In New England and some of the other colonies, there were little houses or shanties built near the meetinghouse, so that people might be kept warm and dry during dinner. These were called "noon houses."

It was thought wrong to have a fire in the churches on the Sabbath. A few delicate persons had footstools in which hot coals and ashes were placed, but all others were expected to endure the cold.

The Sabbath began in New England at sunset on Saturday, when all work was stopped and the children's play hushed. Next morning the whole family arose early. No work, except such as was absolutely necessary, was done. No hot meals were prepared. The dishes were left unwashed until Monday morning.

The entire household set out for the meeting-house, sometimes several miles distant. When they entered the church, the children were separated from their parents, the boys going into one pew and the girls into another. The service was a long one, the sermon sometimes lasting three or four hours.

But woe betide the unlucky child who chanced to close his eyes. Suddenly down would come the tap, tap of a knobby pole upon his head. It was the tithing man, whose duty it was to keep order. Now he tickled the face of a sleepy little girl with the fox-tail on the end of his pole, now he smartly rapped the skull of an unruly small boy.

That the boys were unruly is proved by the records of their time. One reads thus: "We of Medford do pass an order that all such idle boys who cut the seats in the meeting-house shall be persecuted." Tithing men and constables were appointed especially to watch over the "pue of ye wretched boys."

Another record reads: "His Majesty's Tithing man entered complaint against Jona and Susan Smith, that on the Lord's Day during Divine Service they did smile. They were found guilty and each was fined five shillings and costs."

There were Sabbaths, when the snow was thick on the ground, that proved a "temptation of ye Devile" to many boyish hearts, and they went "sleeing." This roused the wrath of the Albany authorities, and they passed a law forbidding such "unseemly wickedness." It read:

"Whereas the children of the said city do very unorderly, to the shame and scandal of their parents,

Concerning Bliss

Fellow can't be too careful writing about the problems of matrimony, as I am here to tell you. My gay advice to new husbands under the heading "Guide for Grooms" drew some stingy comments from both corners of the ring.

"You've got it all wrong," writes Mrs. Mark Carlson about my tip to give the little woman her own way. "We don't want any yesmen, as you seem to think. A husband should stand up for his rights and his wife will respect him for it. Uhhhuh.

F. H. Robertson of Powell River goes along with me on the idea. "If husbands would put your advice into practice they'd find a heaven on earth," he writes. "Your wife will be so pleased (at getting her own way) that she'll work her fingers to the bone to please you. Give, men, and don't count the cost. It will return unto you."

Grace Reader says, "Surely you were just kidding, but all the same I wish you'd let Brown Eyes publish her side of the story. After all, no one made you marry it was your own decision. So don't make everyone believe life is over once the wedding bells have rung. Here I was blissfully going on thinking marriage was swell—do you mean it isn't?"

Lord love you, Grace, I never said any such thing. I was just passing along the advice of an old hand to a new shipmate. Don't you go getting disillusioned, gal.

Arthur Blake, on the other hand, says, "I disagree with you completely on your advice to new grooms. Personally, I think husbands should treat their wives the way the Indians used to. With respect, mind you, but never any doubt about who's the boss."

Arthur adds a postscript. He is a single man.

Night Lights

Frequently get column ideas via the mail bag and frequently use them. One colorful suggestion comes today from Ernest MacGinnis, who thinks there's a lot to be written about lamp posts.

"They are like the dogs of our life," he muses, "stretching ahead and out of sight. We only bask in the complete light of one at a time and yet we are affected by both the past and the immediate future.

"In fogs it is particularly appropriate. Each light is then a distinctly separate unit and one walks on in the semi-darkness in the pure faith that another light will be coming in line so many lineal feet from the last one."

I have some more correspondence from Dr. Eric Mercer, Indian whose zeal in spreading the word of safety for kids on streets to parades to teach them manners to walk across the streets not run.

"If I were wealthy I would buy space in every newspaper to say that over and over," he writes and for such a cause we're glad to donate little space here.

And Others

Now for some assorted subjects.

Red Cassidy says, "Here's a proposition. You may have noticed the recent complaints regarding errors in pronunciation made by some of our radio announcers. He says, "I wonder whether you'd be willing to assist in the extermination of that clod which insists on referring to Vancouver as 'VancouvAH.'" Count me in, Red.

Grant Johnston of Victoria invites me for some fishing with the promise of a trip you'll never forget. You better bring your tent and furniture, too," he adds, "because once you see the beauties of Victoria you'll never be happy again. See you next Friday, Mr. J., but only temporarily.

A Reader and Friends says, "This may seem like a dumb thing to ask you, but we really wish you'd write a column about Frank Sinatra. He just croons—he won't let us keep mentioning Frankie in our column in our school paper and if you mentioned him in yours they'd never hear the end of it in Journalism class."

Anything to oblige, kids.

Crops Depend On Weather

Weather for the next few days will determine the extent of the crop disaster facing Alberta agricultural officials said Wednesday.

Reports that came in the wash was "doomed" had been heard from farmers, but officials in government circles were inclined to doubt that the situation was as serious as had been pictured.

They admitted that in light stands wheat in the swath might have been severely dry-out by rains of recent weeks, but pointed out that where crops were heavy and stubble thick, much of the cut grain remained on top of the stubble.

They estimated that about 25 per cent of the cut grain was in the swath, with the rest in the stook.

In some cases it will be necessary to turn stooks, they said, but given proper weather conditions most farmers would be able to thresh without tearing down the stooks.

About 25 per cent of Northern and Central Alberta crops are still uncut.

It will take "several days" of drying weather before the ground will be sufficiently dry to allow cutting to continue. Whipping winds on the standing crop, after a day or so of dry weather might cause serious "shelling" it was admitted.

Cost Increase Blamed

Pilot Plant May Need Additional Finance

Cost of construction of the pilot-plant being built at Bitumont for the extraction of oil from Alberta's bituminous sands may exceed the $500,000 which the provincial government has already allotted to Oil Sands Ltd. for the purpose, according to Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works.

SHARP INCREASES in cost of material and labor might make the increased expenditures necessary, Mr. Fallow pointed out.

"It is very difficult to get skilled labor into the site," Mr. Fallow said, "since tradesmen in construction work have ample opportunities to work at their trades in cities and towns, where pay is high and conditions good."

The minister said he was planning a trip into the plant site this week, but since land-based planes cannot land closer than McMurray and since the South Cooking Lake air base has been abandoned, there are difficulties in obtaining transportation into the plant. However, there is a pontoon plane at McMurray and Mr. Fallow said arrangements to make use of it.

AT THE PRESENT time, Mr. Fallow said, construction of the plant is not being delayed by shortages.

Concrete for foundations for buildings and machinery has been poured for two years, and the steel framework of buildings has been erected. They had been a shortage of steel sheeting to cover the structures, he said.

Machinery had been installed in many places and was covered with tarpaulins until the metal sheeting could be obtained. This is now being put into place as rapidly as possible.

W. W. Rotherham-Bramdon of the Canadian Brown Steel Tank Co., contractors engaged in building the plant, was expected in Edmonton late this week and would confer with Mr. Fallow when he arrived here.

EXCEPTION FOR A few minor connecting links the machinery is all on the site of the plant with much of it installed, Mr. Fallow said.

It is hoped that when the work is completed it will be possible to prove that oil can be extracted from the tar sands for $1.50 per bbl. a barrel. It is known that the method being used will work on a laboratory experimental basis and the pilot plant will test its commercial feasibility.

Reduced Oil Showing By Globe-Leduc No. 1

Most western extension test in the Leduc sector of the Edmonton oilfields, Globe-Leduc West No. 1 Tuesday gave a reduced showing of eight feet of oil-cut mud in a one hour drillstem test of interval 5,044-60 feet. A previous test of interval 5,034-5,050 feet gave a 72-foot rise of oil-cut mud. Company geologists hope for greater porosity within the next 2 well is considered one of the best producers in the Leduc field.

IF THEIR NO. 1 well turns out to be a success it will mark the second straight producer by this independent company. The No. 1 Late last night another drillstem test was scheduled for Imperial's No. 11 at 5,010 feet. This well has already given indications of oil.

Guilty on 6 Counts

Four Picketers Fined In City Police Court

Fines were imposed Tuesday on four city residents who as picketers were found to have been responsible for trouble during the recent strike of workers at The Scott Fruit Company. They were found guilty on six charges, including intimidation, assault, and causing disturbances, by Magistrate A. I. Millar in city police court.

A CHARGE OF assault causing actual bodily harm was withdrawn on recommendation of the Crown Prosecutor D. E. Masson.

A fine of $50 and costs or six weeks was imposed upon Robert W. Ogston, 10809 70 avenue, when he pleaded guilty to a charge, "that he did wrongfully and without lawful authority with view to compel the complainant, Alex Alexeff, to abstain from doing that which he had a lawful right to do, to wit: carry on his employment with The Scott Fruit Company, did use violence to the said complainant contrary to the provisions of Section 501 (a) of the Criminal Code of Canada."

The charge against Ogston arose from incidents taking place last Aug. 26.

Peter Ungaro 11556 64 street was given a fine of $20 and costs or 30 days, on a similar intimidation charge, and also was fined $10 and costs or 14 days on an assault charge. He was said to have accosted an employee of the company on Aug. 27, pulling the employee's cap down over his eye.

ON THE THIRD charge of causing a disturbance, Ungaro was fined $10 and costs or 14 days. All sentences are to run consecutively.

In passing sentence on Ogston, Magistrate Millar said "violence in cases like this is liable to arise and it is very necessary to stop it whenever it occurs. High blood pressure must be curbed if we are to have peace in the community."

500 Freshmen Take Part

Varsity 'Snake Parade' Ties Up City Traffic

More than 500 straw-hatted, shouting university freshmen snake-danced through downtown Edmonton about 9 p.m. Tuesday, snarling traffic, singing varsity songs, disconnecting trolley bus and street car cables, and causing city police tempers to flare.

ALMOST FROM the start the weaving, pulsing line of students "hooked" efforts of city policemen.

The linked string of students alternately feeble, frenetic, girl-boy, organized spontaneously at Kingsway Park after a pep rally and all-girl rugby game held by the freshman introduction committee.

Right outside the park police began efforts to discourage the jubilant freshies. One over-enthusiastic student was taken to the police station, where he spent the rest half-hour.

THE CURLING line of undergraduates tramped through a theatre, milled about Jasper avenue intersections, went through a florist and other business establishments, and tired up auto and street car traffic.

At least three students were placed in the patrol wagon, but attempts overpaid police attempts to "prisoners" escaping again.

Other students were escorted away from their snake-dancing companions by peace officers.

Police cars drove through student lines, and a sound car was used to ask the howling freshmen to disperse.

Only casually was a cord on the end of a line who was swung around too rapidly, struck a wall, and received a nose cut. He rushed immediately to the university infirmary, but was released shortly.

UPPERCLASSMEN, maintaining as much order as they could, kept anxious motorists moving if the main drivers hindered. A path was cleared immediately when one driver stated he was en route to hospital.

Most trolley bus and street car motormen good-humoredly stopped or had trolleys pulled off overhead cables. They were harassed only by the laugh of wrecked schedules.

Edmontonians seemed generally to appreciate the university holiday once their effects, after watching the apparently endless line of freshmen add "fun" to have their fun.

But the police thought differently. Said one constable when asked for a comment, "You couldn't paint it pink."

AS FOR THE CHEERING students gathered at 100 street and Jasper avenue for more yells, freshman introduction committee officials and police employed the sound car to urge the tired freshies to go home and save their energies for the remainder of freshman week on the campus.

Two more American big game hunters were at the Macdonald hotel Tuesday en route to the Rocky Mountain foothills country for a shooting trip.

They are Dr. John A. Shackelford, surgeon from Martinsville, Virginia and Edwin H. Williamson of North Carolina. Mr. Williamson is a retired U.S. Army captain.

Both visitors are accompanied by their wives and Dr. Williamson also has his 9-year-old daughter, Mary, with him.

The hunters plan to go to the country around Hinton, about 100 miles west of Edmonton, for a three weeks' shoot. They hope to bag caribou and mountain sheep.

Families of the American visitors will stay in Edmonton until the hunters return here.

Name Three Lakes For Servicemen

The memory of three Alberta servicemen who were decorated, and who died in the service of their country will be preserved for posterity in the names of three lakes in Northern Alberta, Mrs. Edith Gostick of the Alberta Geographic Board said today.

The lakes are northeast of Grouard Mission and almost directly east of McLennan and on present maps appear as unnamed bodies of water. From now on they will be known as Pentland Lake, Sutton Lake and Webster Lake.

Pentland Lake is named for Sqdn. Ldr. W. H. Pentland, DFC, a native flier who enlisted in Calgary in May 1940 for aircrew service. He completed one tour of duty overseas and was part way through his second when he was reported missing on Oct. 7, 1944. He was awarded his decoration for "his skill, leadership and courage" in attacks on ground targets in Normandy.

Flt. Lt. H. R. Sutton, DFC was educated in Edmonton and later at Queen's University. He enlisted in Edmonton in June 1940 and was reported missing overseas about a year later while on operational duty. RCAF officers declared his "bravery, determination and resourcefulness" during daylight attacks on Brest and La Pallice on the French coast aided the Allied cause.

Sqdn. Ldr. A. E. Webster, DFC whose parents Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Webster once lived in Edmonton enlisted in Ontario in June 1940 and was on his second tour of duty overseas when he was killed in a flying accident. He received his award for his great coolness while acting as navigator in damaged aircraft. He demonstrated "coolness and imperturbability" under trying circumstances.

Acron, a Greek physician, is reputed to have originated fumigation in 473 B. C., when he halted a plague in Athens by burning aromatics in great fires.

Peru Refuses Re-Admit Japs

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The state department said yesterday the government of Peru has declined thus far to permit return of 265 Peruvian-Japanese sent to the United States for safekeeping three years ago. Unless Peru agrees to allow them back into that country shortly, state department officials said the American government must deport them to Japan even though since arrival they have been cleared of any suspicion that they may be dangerous aliens. These Peruvian-Japanese were sent to the United States during the war as part of the co-operative program of the American republics to round up Japanese who might be security risks and turn them over to the United States.

Motorcyclists Draw $3 Fines

For riding their motorcycles on the sidewalk on 86 avenue between 107 and 109 streets, three Edmonton men were assessed fines of $3 and costs or five days by Magistrate A. L. Miller in police court Tuesday afternoon.

The men, Clarence Newman, 6629 97 street; John Lakusta, 9729 76 avenue; and Clifford Babiltz, 9863 81 avenue, told the magistrate they were riding the sidewalk because they "thought the road would be muddy."

Failing to close their stores and making sales after 6 p.m. brought fines of $5 and costs or five days to Joseph Helm, 11402 95 street and Harry Bratkiw, 10602 97 street.

The charge against Helm arose out of a sale of goods amounting to $1.85 on Sept. 12. Bratkiw admitted selling articles after hours on Sept. 12.

TORONTO, Sept. 24.—(CP)—Convicted of fraudulently obtaining $17,295 over a five-year period from the publishing company which employed her, Mrs. Dorothy Hodgins Tuesday was sentenced to two years in penitentiary. Evidence was that the accused, in her capacity as a secretary to the editor of MacLean's Magazine, obtained the money from 1942 to 1947.

TORONTO, Sept. 24.—(CP)—Reduction of luxury and income taxes in the next federal budget was predicted Tuesday in an Ottawa dateline story carried by the Toronto Star. The Star said reduced income taxes would account "for about half the reduction in taxes that is coming." Married Students Require Lodging

About 500 university students have been accomodated by the University Student Housing Service through the co-operation of Edmontonians, it was announced today by Mrs. W. G. Pybus of the housing service.

Many applications for single students have been received, but more than 100 married veteran students and another 100 couples with children have been unable to find housing.

Only 15 suites and an additional 15 housekeeping rooms have been found for married veteran students. Unless living accomodation is found for these couples, some students may be forced to forego their educations, and others will have to maintain their families out of town, Mrs. Pybus said.

"Fresh up" WITH 7up

Before it is too late

I remember how I felt when the word came through. The war was over! Peace had come, this time for keeps.

A wonderful new world was on the way . . . remember?

I got to thinking about it last night, about what's happening—and I couldn't sleep.

Beyond our town I seemed to see the lights of all the world. And as I watched, they were going out one by one.

I saw the foundries grow cold against the moon, the wheels stop in the factories.

I saw the printing presses smashed, and free people taken away and shot.

I saw the rise of the dictators.

I saw their lines of puppet men jerking to the polls, while bands played and banners waved.

Yes—the disciplined state had come.

"Turn on your radio, comrade. The orders for the day are coming through . . . "

"Turn over your children to us. We will indoctrinate them for the state . . . "

"Your union is no longer necessary. Your hours, your rations and your work have been set by the bureau . . . "

"Tear up the ballot. You have no need for it now . . . "

I want to thank God today that I live in Canada.

That I can still speak my own mind and do as I please, work as I please and vote as I please . . . that the way ahead of me is still wide open.

Now I know how easily these priceless privileges can be lost.

I have a young son and this is what I'm going to tell him—

If you cannot learn to discipline yourself, there will always come a tyrant to teach you.

—It takes spunk and sweat to become a good Canadian citizen. Don't let anybody try to tell you differently.

—You'll never find peace in any doctrine that preaches violence to prove its point.

—You'll never be happy under any kind of government that denies the love of God and the natural goodness of man.

—You'll never get ahead in any scheme of life that puts a halter on your initiative and your ingenuity.

Above all, beware the man—whether he is a Right or a Left, or the Middle, or of the Proletariat or whatever label he wears—if he tries, under any pretext, to trade you out of any of your rights as a citizen—he is a tyrant, who will take away all your liberties, one by one.

No, I don't think it's going to happen in Canada.

But make no mistake about it. The danger is still here.

We have been challenged to prove the stuff we are made of—to prove that the way we live and work beats that of any other system in the world.

And there's only one way to prove it. That's to produce the goods . . . before it is too late.

We've got to bury our little squabbles, and start pulling together.

We've got to set our wheels in a new high—and keep them rolling.

We've got to quit looking back to 1939, or '29—and start building a many-times-greater Canada.

We've got to plant more wheat and raise more corn. Dig more nickel and roll more steel. Build more, make more.

It's got to be done—not only to bring back the lights of Europe, but because it is our only salvation—

—because it is the Canadian way, to ever increase our ability to bring better living to more people.

—because only by being productive can we be strong—

And only by being strong can we remain free!

DOROTHY DIX says:

Bride Can't Change "Scatterer" Mate

Dear Miss Dix: Should a bride start out her married life waiting on her husband hand and foot? My husband leaves the bathtub dirty, towels on the floor, clothes on the chairs, throws cigarette ashes any place except the ash tray, and he lies across the bed in the day time with his shoes on the clean spread. Shouldn't a young wife let her husband know, in a nice way from the very first, that she does not intend to make a slave of herself?

I find out that the wives who take up for themselves are appreciated more than those who make themselves doormats for their husbands, and they stay younger and far more attractive.

ONE WHO KNOWS

ANSWER: Well, if you are a bride who knows how to turn a husband who is a scatterer into one who wipes his feet on the doormat and hangs up his clothes on the hooks, instead of on the floor, and who knows what an ash tray is made for, you possess a secret that millions of other wives would like to know, and you should pass it on.

Personally, I doubt that it can be done, for men who have the disorderly complex can never see why women make such a fetish of having everything neat and clean, and they consider that they are being henpecked when their wives make a fuss over their leaving their belongings just where they use them and rimming up the best mahogany with wet glasses. They file their wives' protests against cigarette ashes strewn all over the place under the head of nagging.

Your idea of correcting your husband's faults in a "nice" way is a bridge dream. It can't be done. It invariably leads to a fight. And so when you find out that it is a choice between a scrimmage over the way your husband leaves the bathroom and picking up after him, you will do just like millions of other wives do. You will pick up.

Dear Dorothy Dix: We have been married eight years and have a little girl of 4. Our trouble is that my wife likes pleasure and good times, but, owing to the cost of living and my getting a small salary, I am not able to please her, although I do the best I can.

The result is that she goes out at night and drinks and comes home any where from two to five in the morning, and we quarrel for hours over it. She says that I am wrong and unreasonable as she only goes out with girl friends and there is no harm in it.

She practically does no housework as we send our clothes to the laundry and she only cooks one meal a day. I cook the others and help in every way possible. What would you suggest to help a worried husband?

W. W.

Answer: Unless you have a singularly trusting disposition and little knowledge of women and the world, you must know that your wife is playing you for a sucker, when she tells you that she spends her nights in gossiping with her girl friends. It wouldn't take them until 5 o'clock in the morning to spill all the scandal they know, and she wouldn't come home the worse for liquor. Not with the price that drinks are now.

So I should say that the best thing for you to do would be to call her bluff and tell her that she had to behave herself, or else—Perhaps if she would get busy with her housework and make a comfortable home for you and the child, she wouldn't have so much leisure in which to think of all the things she wants and can't have.

Dear Miss Dix: My fiancee and I are very much in love with each other, but her mother is trying to break us up, not because she objects to me, but because her other children are married and live apart from her and she says that if this girl marries she will be left alone. She spends her time telling my girl what a purgatory marriage is, what fiends men are, and so on, and I am afraid she will so prejudice my sweetie against marriage that she will break our engagement. What shall I do?

WONDERING

ANSWER: Better marry the girl before her mother gets in her dirty work. Or, if you are of heroic mold and feel that you can take the punishment, invite mother-in-law to live with you.

Dutch Will Halt Indonesia Strife

THE HAGUE, Sept. 24—(CP)—The Netherlands government indicated Tuesday it was ready to halt military action in Indonesia if conditions permitted a peaceful settlement of the Indonesian Republic's dispute with The Netherlands.

At the same time the government announced it soon would take over legal authority in the areas of eastern and western Java occupied by Dutch troops in their "police action" against the forces of the republic.

The government statement, read to parliament by Premier L. J. M. Beel, appealed to "constructive elements" within the republic to co-operate in seeking a solution. But it said "malevolent elements" still were predominant in the Republican government and that this interfered with the renewal of Dutch-Indonesian negotiations.

The announcement said a central organization would be formed in the near future and would be developed into an interim federal government pending the drafting of a new constitution.

Allocate Offices In New Building

Government departments to move into the R. L. Clarke building, corner 107 street and 104 avenue, recently purchased by the provincial government, include the government purchasing department, under George Clash, and the King's printers offices under A. Shnitka.

The building already is being used by the department of health as the center from which is administered the medical and hospital taxation scheme, whereby the government pays the health expenses of Alberta pensioners.

Other recent changes in government building allotment included the moving of the South Side liquor vendor's in the course of 104 street and White avenue, in the same building as the treasury branch.

To Study Effects Of Atomic Bomb

By PAUL F. ELLIS

NEW YORK, Sept. 24—(AP)—A 10-year study to determine the effects of the atomic bomb on human growth, general body build and the degree of development of various sex characteristics of Japanese children will start soon, it was disclosed today.

An American mission, headed by Dr. William W. Gruelich, professor of anatomy at Stanford University, already has arrived in Japan to supervise the work.

Several thousand boys and girls, ranging in age from six months to 16 years, will be included in the study. About one-half of those selected will be from Hiroshima, first Japanese city to atom bombed, and from Nagasaki, the second city to receive the bomb's blast and deadly radiation.

Why Grow Old?

You will only have one pair of eyes so between you and your optometrist take good care of them. Actress Adele Jergens is pictured using eye pads during a rest period to relieve eye strain.

By Josephine Lowman

Our eyes are so very important to us, not only from the standpoint of beauty but even more from the standpoint of enjoying life. So much color and information and interesting activity, self-efficiency and human interest are derived through good eyesight. It certainly behooves us to take care of our eyes!

Did you know that one school child in five is retarded because of visual difficulties? Did you know surveys have indicated that fifteen per cent of all highway accidents are caused by inadequate vision? Did you know that if these children, who are visually handicapped, are found and given proper visual care, the result can be a drastic drop in the number of retarded school children and visually inefficient automobile drivers of later years?

These facts came to me from the American Optometric Association. At their annual roneplace held this last June in Atlantic City another interesting idea was presented by Dr. Louis Wekstein, psychology instructor, at the Massachusetts School of Optometry.

Dr. Wekstein suggests that too much emphasis has been placed on the term "eye strain" and too often there is a tendency to blame migraine, neuralgia, and watering eyes on the eye. He goes on to say that sight is not a simple mechanical process like a camera, taking a picture. It depends on mind, muscles and nerves. It is psychological as well as physical and that good vision depends on emotions as well as on the eyes.

He continued with, "Many patients come to the optometrist to have their glasses changed when what they actually need is a personality change."

This interested me very much because I have known many persons whose eyesight seemed to vary from day to day, and I, myself, have noticed this. Four years ago glasses were prescribed to me for close work. I have used them less than an eighth of that time. Week after week I sat at my desk in a newspaper office and read the daily editions as they came through without effort or glasses. Then came the blurry days when my arm was not long enough for the telephone directory. I have correlated these days with lack of sleep, fatigue or strain.

Let me make it plain that I am not trained in eye difficulty. What I am writing is from personal experience. Certainly if you have a feeling of strain or vague fatigue, or experience headaches, you should investigate eyes as the source of your trouble.

However I do know, from the research I have done, that blindness has been induced by hysteria, and I also know several people for whom eye glasses were prescribed at the same time they told me I should use them, who cannot see at all as I can now. They used glasses constantly whereas I did not.

Do not overlook the eye angle as an answer to your problems but keep Dr. Wekstein's idea in mind. It may open up a whole new world of eye therapy.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Parents may feel that once the child is in school they can literally wash their hands of his education and leave it up to the teacher. With a sigh of relief they see him off in the morning, grateful that he is happy, busy and cared for.

But, if parents want children to get the most of their education they have to be active participants in it, not passive observers. This does not mean they actually teach the child, but they show an eager interest in what he is being taught.

Each day as he comes home they ask him what he has learned—not how well he has done. Children become nervous and strained when parents are too insistant on good marks. The big point is what they are doing and helping them to feel that each day is a high point of interest and everything happening to them is of importance to the parents as well as to themselves.

The parents' attitude toward children's quarrels in school will help the child to accept the fact that he cannot be all things to all children. Though he may be eager to be friends with all, there may be only a few children who are compatible with him. He isn't to be blamed, this is the way things are. He must try to be a friend, but be happy when he has made only a few. Parents with ambitions to have their children lead socially may develop only a miserable child, eternally conscious of social failure.

School can be a success or failure to the child because of the way the parent views his relationship with the teacher. It is possible that the teacher may have to reprimand the child. If so, she should be upheld. If the mother feels there is any injustice she should take it up with the teacher, not discuss it with the child. It is all too easy, hearing only one side, to get a garbled and biased story. Once the child feels that the parent lacks confidence in the teacher's judgment, he too loses faith in the authority of the school. It is a grave error to destroy a child's faith in one of his natural authorities, for then his faith in all of them is weakened.

In addition to taking an eager interest in what the child is doing in school and upholding the authority of his teacher, the parent should enter into the activities of the school, not hold aloof from them. All of this confirms the child's own interest in his work and the new world of which he is a part. There is every reason then for him to be successful in it.

Our leaflet No. 63, "Helping the Slow Child," suggesting reasons why children may not be successful in school work may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Enters Guilty Plea To False Pretences

Pleading guilty in city police court Tuesday to three charges of false pretences, Joseph S. Smith, no fixed abode, was remanded until Sept. 30 for sentence, by Magistrate A. L. Miller.

The accused was brought to the city from Lethbridge.

On the first charge, it is alleged that Smith obtained $60 from a worthless cheque in Ponoka last Dec. 14. The second, for obtaining lodgings on false pretences in Ponoka Dec. 24, and the third charge, for cashing a worthless $40 cheque in Edmonton on Jan. 7.

Plan Joint Survey On Living Costs

Co-operation of the provincial government will be sought by the City of Edmonton in a joint survey to determine the reasons for the rapid increase in the cost of necessities of life.

Ald. James H. Ogilvie sponsored the motion asking for the joint probe, and he coupled with it the rider that if undue increases were found, publicity be given those responsible.

Mayor Harry Ainlay gave notice of motion that he would, at the next council meeting, seek authority to submit a money by-law to the burgesses at the Nov. 5 municipal election covering the construction of an auditorium on the civic centre. Prior to the mayor's notice being given City Commissioners John Hodgson and D. B. Menzies stated they were not supporting the presentation of this by-law at the present time.

Ald. Fred J. Mitchell gave notice of motion, which if passed by city council will see a change in the city's assessment basis before the assessment roll for 1948 is compiled.

Council also approved work on certain local improvements costing $5,061 in different parts of the city, all of which had been fully petitioned for by residents in the areas affected.

Fewer Unemployed

Total of unemployed in Edmonton and district is 999 the lowest this year, according to Selective Service board officials.

Of this number, veterans total 88. There were 450 female applications for unemployment insurance. Positions vacant totalled 552 for females and 698 for men, a slight increase over last year.

British Hostess Visiting Canada

By WILLIAM STEWART

QUEBEC, Sept. 24—(CP)—Mrs. Enid Wall, around whose quiet home in a Surrey Lane 1st Canadian Army Headquarters sprang up during the war, reached Quebec late last night for a visit to Canada that once was a favorite topic of fireside conversation with Canadian officers who were her billeted guests.

The jolly wartime foster-mother to a score of Canadian officers with army headquarters at Leatherhead, Surrey, travelled to Canada aboard the Empress of Canada. The ship docked here just before midnight after a crossing rough enough that Mrs. Wall's safe-arrival cable to her family in England said:

"Undefeated by the elements"

Mrs. Wall will spend two months renewing friendships that grew out of her hospitality to Canadians with 1st Corps Headquarters and then with 1st Army Headquarters which succeeded it in the preparation for operations on the continent.

She was greeted at the dockside by Neil Baird of Galt, Ont., one of her Leatherhead guests when he wore the uniform of the Highland Light Infantry.

Mrs. Wall said she had to get back to England at the end of November before 16-year-old son Michael returned to Leatherhead for his Christmas holidays.

"You're on the wrong side of the road," she exclaimed to Baird as they started out from Quebec with the car well over to the right.

700 Students Attend Tea

By MARGARET WEIR

Freshmen trekked over the wet campus sidewalks autumn leaves to attend the annual tea dance of Freshman introduction week held Tuesday in the gym of the Educational building. Sponsored by the introductory committee, the mixed function attracted about 700 students.

Gliding over the polished floor to the strains of records, co-eds added gaiety to the scene by donning their newest Shetlands and pleated skirts. All costumes were complemented with Frosh regalia of orange bow straw hats and evergreen neckerchiefs.

Souvenier silk 'kerchiefs painted cowboys were awarded winners of the novelty dances run off during the afternoon. Ad libbing over the mike, grinning Jim Wood, as master-of-ceremonies, called upon the co-eds to give the over-populated male section a chance to practice their foot-work. With Freshmen out-numbering Freshettes, it's a far cry from the war-time campus.

And knowing full well, that the only sure route to a varsity boy's heart is by way of his stomach, the Wauneita society prepared gayly decorated food parcels to be distributed during intermission. When the tea-bell sounded, the dancers formed bread-lines, according to numbers handed them as they entered the gym, each group receiving green and gold covered boxes holding rare culinery arts.

Keyed to the mix and match mood, the students enjoyed the opportunity of continuing acquaintances begun last night amid the hilarious atmosphere of the pep rally.

Princess to See House Opening

LONDON, Sept. 23.—(Reuters)—Princess Elizabeth will make her first official appearance at the state opening of parliament when the King and Queen perform the ceremony during the last week of October, it was learned authoritatively today.

It is only now that she is of age that the heiress presumptive has a place in the official proceedings.

Like the Queen, she will have no active duties in the ceremony but will sit on a chair beside the thrones of her royal parents while the King reads the speech from the throne that will outline the government's program for the ensuing session of parliament.

The speech is expected to make complimentary reference to the new independent Dominions of India and Pakistan, and to announce legislation that will give sovereign independence to Burma. It will contain no major nationalization measures.

The opening of parliament takes place in the House of Lords, which since the original House of Commons was bombed during the war, has been functioning as the lower chamber.

Last time the heir to the throne appeared with his royal parents was when King Edward VIII then Prince of Wales, attended officially the late King George V and Queen Mary.

Princess Elizabeth's fiance, Philip Mountbatten, can have no place in the proceedings, but he may attend as a spectator.

Sooner or later, before the royal wedding Nov. 20, Mountbatten is likely to be created a Duke.

If this happens before the opening of parliament, he will be sworn in as a peer and could then attend the opening of parliament as a member of the Upper House.

Quota Club Sponsors Style Show With C. Woodward Ltd. Clothes

By DOLORES KIMBALL

True to fashion's dictates, colors are muted, moody and warm, materials are soft and subtlety draped in the bright and timely fashions modelled at the autumn showing of styles from C. Woodward Ltd. in the Tuxedoan Ballroom Wednesday afternoon. The show is sponsored by the Quota Club of Edmonton and will take place again in the evening.

Mrs. Inez Weeks and Mrs. Eva Matheson convened the show and Mrs. Kay Henderson acted as commentator against a musical background.

Following the new trend toward elegance is the fluid inspiring movement inate in the designing of the flare-back coats which were featured in the show. There is a feeling of richness and bulk. Fur trimming is back with a rush, with Russian squirrel, Persian lamb and mink strongly to the fore. Even the fitted coat has a sweeping skirt contributing to that easy grace-ful look. Miss Sandy MacDonald modelled a cinnamon brown cosert cloth coat with an interesting swirl back and a bealine bordered with an eighteen inch band of Russian squirrel to add richness and glamour to milady's silhouette. Cherry wine, emerald green and dove gray are colors that are popular in both plain and fur-trimmed coats Shawl collars, coachman capes, and tiny stand-up collars are fashion news.

The fur coats this year are swing-ling wide and handsome also, with full elegant sleeves and rhythmically moving lines. Persian lamb drew sighs from the audience in black and gray, with mink trim Warm-toned moulen lambs, rich Hudson and Alaska seals and the always popular muskrat were shown.

Vibrant color, diagonal button treatment, hip-accenting pockets, marked this season's indispensable suit as a compliment to femininity and contour. The black is suddenly important, with swallow-tail jackets and tunic lines designed to comfort to the new lilea of figure-perfection. Mrs. Eva Matheson was charming and chic in a suit of black wool crepe with accordian pleated sleeves, diagonal buttoning and the perfect pencil-slim skirt. Fur-trimming is important in suits. A tuxedo front of white fox added to a smoke-blue suit the jacket falling in straight classic lines past the hip-line. Mulberry and spice-brown shades are vastly and colorful in a fall or winter suit.

The round line is the right line in after-five dresses. Pleats, shirring and ruffle drapery form the up-to-date keynote with an obvious lack of clutter which allows the individual to improvise with accessories. Daytime necklines are high-riding and sleeves are cut for grace and ease. The padded hip-line, featured in many of the afternoon dress minimizes the waist and adds interesting contour to an otherwise classic line. Mrs. Allan Keltie is sleek, sophisticated and elegant in a cleverly draped shimmering satin-blue satin after-five dress, designed by Dorothy O'Hara of California. Copper brown crepe with satin embroidery burgundy with silver beading and sequin taffeta with jeweled buttons were some of the exciting materials used in the afternoon dresses. Back interest was provided with bustles, drapery and whirling pleats.

Top contrast is top fashion in evening wear, with black velvet being used to compliment a swishing skirt of checked taffeta. Dinner gowns are sleek, sophisticated and highly flattering with daring drapery to give that molded look. A Pacific blue gown embroidered with silver sequins was attractively set-off by a satin harem-draped skirt and corresponding drapery in the bodice. Splashes of color on a white jersey background was used for an evening dress modelled by Mrs. Frank Francis. One shoulder is left bare, the other is covered with a long dolman sleeve. This different diagonal line is figure-flattering.

Brocaded satin was used for the wedding dress and bridesmaids dresses. The back interest was contributed by bustles and four flounces in the back panel of the skirts.

Three movements are important in milady's millinery, the wide-across-the-head look, the side-sweep, and the deep-in-the-back bonnet. Plumes of singed and curled ostrich extravagant bows of satin ribbon, velvet and jewelled trimming are used to augment and reveal the mood and design of the hat.

Proceeds from this show are to be used to decorate the sun room in the new wing of the Royal Alexandra Hospital, for the use of elderly women.

Father: "You shut up! I know what I'm talking about."

Father: "Son, the courteous way of disagreeing with someone else is to say, 'I think you are mistaken.'"

Children do not learn to speak in a courteous way from parents who are, themselves, discourteous.

BEGIN AGAIN

At the party, Gerald and Betty had been playing one of those old-fashioned games with forfeits, and the girl had been ordered to give the young man ten kisses.

"Let's see," said Betty, pausing for breath, "that's seven, isn't it?"

"Only six," corrected Gerald.

"Seven, I think."

"No, six."

"Seven!"

"Six!"

"Look here," said the girl, wearily, "sooner than have any argument we'd better start all over again."

Buttonholing U.S. Secretary Of Treasury

Prime Minister Clement Attlee, left, of England, is all smiles as he places a flower into the button hole of John W. Snyder's suit. Snyder, U.S. secretary of treasury, is in London to attend a meeting of the International Bank and International Monetary Fund. The meeting of the directors of the International Monetary Fund is the ostensible reason for Mr. Snyder's presence because he is one of the members of the board, but interest in Britain centred on the talks expected between the secretary of the treasury and the chancellor of the exchequer concerning Britain's desperate dollar plight.

WASTED ENERGY

"This theory of governing children by appealing to their reason isn't all it's made out to be," said a worried school-teacher recently. "A youngster needs a little spanking once in a while.

"One of my little boys had skipped his classes, deceived his mother, had been found out, and caused much unhappiness all round. I took him aside, and we had a heart-to-heart talk. Johnny sat still, looking at me intently.

"I thought I was making great headway. I never saw a child who seemed so absorbed, even fascinated, by my line of argument. But you can never tell. Just as I had reached the climax in my appeal to his better self a light of discovery broke over Johnny's face.

"Please, teacher, he said eagerly, it's your lower jaw that moves, isn't it?"

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, (CP)—The United Kingdom took about 400,000 bushels of wheat under the Canadian wheat agreement in the only export business reported on Winnipeg grain exchange Wednesday.

Rye futures prices showed an easier tone during the early sessions on declines of Chicago and hedging pressure, but rallied later when buying attributed to shipper accounts came into market. Trading was dull.

At the close October was ⅝ higher at $3.82⅝; December ⅛-1⅛ higher at $3.59 ⅛-⅝ bid; May 2⅛ higher at $3.38 ⅛ asked. Cash rye closed at 3.82 ⅝.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, (AP) — Grains ruled lower throughout the session on the board of trade Wednesday following a heavy sell-off during the early trading.

Uncertainty regarding the outcome of Washington discussions on the food situation, including exports, high domestic prices and margin requirements on grain trading, combined to give the market a nervous undertone. Commercial support was lacking in wheat.

Wheat closed 2⅛ to 4 cents lower, Dec 2.66⅝-2.67⅛, corn was ⅛ lower to 1⅛ higher, Dec. 2.17-2.17½, and oats were ⅝-1⅝ lower, Dec. 1.05⅞-⅝.

Close: Wheat: Dec. 2.66¾-2.67¼; May 2.60⅝-2.61¼; July 2.35¾-2.36. Corn: Dec. 2.17-2.17½; May 2.12½-2.13; July 2.05¾-2.06⅛. Oats: Dec. 1.05⅞-⅝; May 98⅛-⅝; July 89.

Writer Finds Ruined Berlin Still Ghostly Rubble Heap

By Nat Barrows

Chicago Daily News Foreign Service

BERLIN.—The ghostly rubble heap that is Berlin, seen after an absence of two years, still lies half-numbed and semi-prostrate amid its incredible ruins—unrepentant, increasingly arrogant and ever-opportunistic.

Today's sunlight softens the grotesque patterns of the wreckage left by British and American bombs. But the stark claustrophobic atmosphere of living hatred, fear and political ambition casts its ominous shadow over all.

Men who marched over the autobahn into the Nazi capital in July 1945 would not see much change.

They would not recognize the Tiergarten, of course. That has been denuded of its forest until those monstrous statues erected by the Kaiser rear up like icebergs drifting in a sea of vegetable gardens.

Fewer soldiers, including the stolen, unfriendly Red Army men are to be seen along Unter Der Linden. Tanks that used to be on the alert at intersections long since disappeared; soldiers no longer go armed and there is more civilian life in the streets—more trams, more street lights.

Monument To Greed

But mile after mile of great sprawling ruins still lie like a ghostly monument to Nazi greed and brutality—amid which more than 2 million Berliners manage somehow to live.

At midnight when the streets see only black marketeers, homebound "occupiers" and the inevitable prowling women, Berlin seems a city dead 1,000 years.

I strolled through the building that was the heart of Hitler's dreams for world conquest—the Reichschancellery. It presents a strange contrast to the same place two years ago when hordes of encompassing soldiers crowded the Wilhelmstrasse day and night. It is deserted, dark and dank—the tomb of mad ambitions, its facade in process of being torn down to provide materials for a country in desperate short supply. Bucket lines of women, endlessly passing along bricks from the rubble mountains, are at work.

Live In Luxury

Cigarette scroungers haunt the gutters for the rare butt cast off by Americans or Britishers.

Germans by the thousands trek along the sidewalks or jam the ragged streetcars on the way to their hand-to-mouth jobs.

Rumors fly about as recklessly as two years ago. The only difference is that now they turn on prospects of war between Russia and the United States.

Blame Escapism

Much of this "quatsch" (nonsense) seems to stem from the peculiar kind of psychology that the Germans have developed as a form of escapism from their dreary, monotonous existence among the ruins their own leaders brought down upon them.

I have yet to hear a single German, either in Bavaria or here in Prussia, express the slightest regret at having started the war or the merest suggestion of guilt.

An old crone stopped me at midnight on Kurfuerstendamm, asking directions for an obscure street. When I explained that I was an "auslander" (foreigner), she peered closer into darkness and began a tirade against "the bombs that killed our children."

When I mentioned Warsaw, Rotterdam and London, she shambled off, muttering imprecations.

These ruins and this kind of mental attitude have their own depressive effect upon the occupiers.

Furthermore, it is difficult to have normal social friendships with Russians and so the Americans, French and British tend to ingrow upon themselves, pressed down more and more by a sense of being shut off.

Live In Luxury

Many American wives are living in more luxury and comfort than ever could be possible back home, but it is hardly stimulating.

What is known locally as "Uncle Tom's Cabin," is a huge super market shopping center in the Zehlendorf district of the American sector, where American housewives can buy things that are literally out of this world.

The army is increasingly concerned that some of these purchases by Americans are finding their way into the hands of the "schieber," or black marketeers.

Berlin is slowly crawling away from the stunned coma of two years ago, but one tremendous monument to Nazi madness will remain for many years.

It is officially estimated that it will take 20, perhaps 30, years just to get Berlin cleared of its rubble.

Manpower shortage and the sheer physical task of moving millions of tons of debris pose a terrific problem.

New Jet Fighter Can Operate In Any Weather Conditions

The XP-87, first four-engined jet fighter plane, powered and equipped to operate under any weather conditions, has been taken from its construction hangar at the Columbus, Ohio, plant of Curtis-Wright for preliminary ground tests, the Army Air Forces announced.

May Make Island Tourist Resort

"Actually it's one of the most lush tropical islands I've ever seen," Davis told a reporter. "There are three or four islands altogether, and it has happened that convicts who could have returned to France have elected to spend the rest of their lives there as free men. It's that beautiful."

He said the French government was very interested in the possibilities as was the energetic 37-year-old governor of the colony. Pan American Airways also will be following Davis' investigation and are reported eager to co-operate in establishing a super-luxurious tourist resort of what was once a place of horror for men such as the innocent catspaw, Capt. Louis Dreyfus, and Rene Belbenoit, author of "Dry Guillotine," now living in Hollywood.

Main purpose of Davis' trip is to explore the unknown hinterland of Guiana in search of new resources. The party of four or five whites and 50 or 60 natives will also seek animal and plant specimens. The fabled five-foot "dragon-lizard" is one such, as are crocodiles.

To capture these, Davis is carrying with him an unusual shoulder-fired underwater gun made of light metal. A capsule of gas under pressure such as is normally used to carbonate water propels a one-pound harpoon 60 yards with killing force. In a test at home, said Davis, the squagun's harpoon at 30 feet penetrated a 700-page business executives' handbook and went halfway through the "Corpse in the Green Pajamas."

The voyage, begun by Pan Am clipper, will end on native canoe, taking them deep into headhunter country. Nevertheless, for Davis and his wife of a few months, this will be a honeymoon trip.

CONFUSING RULE

REGINA. (CP)—Snowmobiles are classed as motor vehicles in Saskatchewan and 40 of them were licensed last year. But licenses applications require that the wheelbase of the vehicle be listed, and highways department officials admit it is just a bit confusing in the case of a snowmobile.
